VOL. 3, NO. 124 PHONE 723-8200 WARREN, PA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1968 205 PENNA. AVE., WEST 28 PAGES 10c

WEATHER
Slightly warmer temperatures, variable cloudiness and a chance of thundershowers are forecast today with a high near 80.

DREW PEARSON
Vice President Humphrey has selected four tentative vice-presidential running mates should he get the presidential nomination.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER
Variable cloudy skies and a chance of showers this afternoon and evening is the outlook today. The high temperature reading today will be 82 degrees with the overnight low about 55. Winds will be southwesterly 10 to 15 mph becoming north to northwest by tonight. The extended forecast through Monday indicates temperatures will average below normal with day time highs in the mid to upper 70s and the overnight low readings in upper 50s. It will be cool Thursday and Friday, warmer over the weekend and cooler again about Monday. Rain is expected Thursday or Friday and again Monday. Tuesday's 7 a.m. report: high 80; low 53; there was no precipitation recorded. The river level was 3.11 feet and steady.

KINZUA DAM REPORT
Pool level 1324.85 feet (desired summer pool level 1328 feet; maximum 1365 feet). Outflow temperature 70 degrees. Upper reservoir 74 degrees. The reading at the Warren gauge 3.15 feet.

PENNSYLVANIA
County governments are asked to support consolidation of state public assistance and child welfare programs under one administrative unit.
The Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency, reacting to public criticism, announces that a greater percentage of state scholarships are now going to students from low-income families.
The Pennsylvania Supreme Court reinstates pupil transportation costs suit brought by a Delaware County school district.

THE NATION
President Johnson signs a $4.6 billion public works appropriations bill, about a third of which is earmarked for water projects in the 50 states.
Georgia delegation is the No. 1 target as McCarthy forces plan representation challenges for the Democratic National Convention.
Negroes and police dispute the cause of latest Watts violence. Negroes blame police pressure, police blame agitators who "get unhappy when it's peaceful." The area is calm.

THE WORLD
A bomb explodes near Greek Premier George Papadopoulos' car on a road near Athens. A suspect is captured. Other bombs explode in Athens.
Walter Ulbricht, East German leader, returns from Czechoslovakia talks with little to show for his efforts.
SPORTS
It's just a short item, but it's important. The Penn State-Army football game for Nov. 2 is sold out.
Pro golfers will be shooting for big money. The $250,000 Westchester Open has $50,000 reserved for the golfer that comes in first.
Hope springs eternal, especially if you are a Pittsburgh Steeler fan. Coach Bill Austin says he is looking forward to the 1968 season and is optimistic.
The touring golf pros are on the outs with the Professional Golf Association. The pros claim they will conduct their own tour in the future.

HUMPHREY WINS VETERANS' SUPPORT
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey met in his office at the Capitol with 25 veterans leaders to announce the formation of the Veterans for Humphrey Committee. The group will support Humphrey's candidacy for the presidential nomination. Humphrey heard himself referred to as a "steadfast advocate" in behalf of veterans throughout his public career.

Ulbricht Returns to Berlin; Talks Fall Short of Hopes

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht returned Tuesday from talks in Czechoslovakia that strongly suggested Prague will no longer follow his line on German policy.
The results of Ulbricht's meeting with Czechoslovak Communist chief Alexander Dubcek at Karlovy Vary fell far short of what the bearded East German was able to get last year from Dubcek's predecessor, ousted Antonin Novotny, a hard-liner.
Some experts here on East European affairs were surprised that the bland Karlovy Vary communiqué did not even mention the East German-Czechoslovak treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance signed with much fanfare by Ulbricht and Novotny in Prague on March 17, 1967.
Ulbricht's quick maneuvers were generally credited then with checking a Czechoslovak drift toward better relations with the West German government.
It is felt here that Ulbricht had similar objectives in rushing to see Dubcek so soon after the six-party Communist meeting Aug. 3 at Bratislava involving Czechoslovakia with the Soviet Union and its hard-line allies, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary.
At Bratislava, Prague's five Warsaw Pact allies agreed not to interfere with Dubcek in Czechoslovakia's internal liberalization. Ulbricht apparently felt he still had to work quickly to try to influence Dubcek on German and foreign policy.

Storm Keeps Bombers From Launching Strikes

SAIGON (AP) — Tropical storm Rose whipped up high seas in the Tonkin Gulf and prevented Navy bombers from three attack carriers from launching strikes over North Vietnam Tuesday, the U.S. Command announced Wednesday.
It marked the first time since last Dec. 10 that the Navy was unable to get in a single mission over North Vietnam because of bad weather.
Air Force and Marine bombers, however, flying off fixed bases in Thailand and South Vietnam, got in a limited number of raids over the North Tuesday, headquarters said.
Their targets were trucks, supply boats, roads and weapons positions in the continuing efforts to slow the movement of war materials into South Vietnam.
In five separate missions Tuesday, the eight-jet Stratofortresses unleashed at least 450 tons of bombs on enemy troop concentrations, base camps, bunkers and storage areas ranging from 29 to 32 miles north of Saigon.
In two more raids Wednesday morning, the B52s attacked suspected enemy troop concentrations 11 and 14 miles northeast of Tay Ninh city, near the Cambodian border.
Little ground fighting was reported.
Troops of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division counted 104 enemy bodies Tuesday after a two-day battle with an estimated 300-strong enemy force in the delta rice paddies 21 miles southwest of Saigon. American losses were 15 killed and 30 wounded.
It was one of four engagements in the Mekong Delta since Monday in which the allies claimed a total of 181 Viet Cong killed.
Government agents raided a house four blocks from the Tan Son Nhut Air Base and seized a munitions cache containing 11 Chinese assault rifles, 200 pounds of dynamite and 50 bazooka-type rockets.

Bomb Explodes Near Car Of Greek Premier in Athens

ATHENS (AP) — A plunger-fired dynamite bomb blew up near the car of Premier George Papadopoulos in an abortive assassination attempt along a coastal road Tuesday. The Greek strongman, 49, escaped injury.
Security police arrested a man, clad only in bathing trunks, as he raced across rocks toward the shore in an attempt to board a motor boat.
A government spokesman said the captive was ex-Lt. George Panagoulis, 30, an army deserter, and that he had tried to kill the premier on behalf of "Fascist and reactionary groups."
Terrorists later exploded at least two less powerful bombs in Athens, where the military seized power in a bloodless coup April 21, 1967. These bombs were described as homemade devices filled with gasoline.
No one was hurt in any of the blasts.
The government spokesman, Byron Stamatiopoulos, said the outbreaks showed every sign of being well planned and coordinated by opposition elements. He blamed "Fascists and reactionaries."
A Greek resistance movement in Paris had announced that organized resistance to the regime would begin in Athens Tuesday. And it followed up the disclosure of the assassination attempt—the first known against any member of the army-backed regime—with a communiqué describing purported militant activities in the Greek capital.
"Many mines and bombs are being exploded in military and police installations, government buildings, main streets and central places in Athens," it said. "The flames, smoke and explosions have created a warlike atmosphere."
Nothing like such violence occurred. There were no immediate signs of unusual security measures.
But it was the closest thing to an open rebellion since King Constantine's counter coup was foiled last Dec. 13.
The short, stocky mastermind of the 1967 coup is the sponsor of a new draft constitution on which Greeks will vote Sept. 29. It would strip King Constantine, 28, of most of his powers and drastically weaken parliament.
The attempt on Papadopoulos' life came as he was driving toward Athens from his summer villa at Lagonisi, 18 miles away.

Johnson Signs $4.6 Billion Public Works Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson signed Tuesday a $4.6 billion public works appropriations bill, about a third of which is earmarked for water projects in the 50 states.
The bill carries a total of $4,608,421,000 for the fiscal year which started July 1. This compares with $4,908,657,000 recommended in President Johnson's budget and $4,693,503,000 voted by Congress a year ago.
The Atomic Energy Commission gets $2,570,874,000—the biggest single amount in the bill—to finance its programs and operations. Included is $12 million for the 200-bev nuclear accelerator at Weston, Ill.
The Army engineers receive a total of $1,214,772,500 and the Reclamation Bureau $273,351,500 to plan, build and operate water projects in the various states. The projects include those for navigation, flood control, beach erosion, water supply, hydroelectric and irrigation.
Missing from the list of Army engineer projects is the proposed Dickey Lincoln school hydroelectric project in Maine. For the second consecutive year Congress declined to provide money to plan the development although funds were recommended for it in the budget both years.
Most of the money for the water projects will be used to continue construction already underway. Funds also are included to start work on 10 small flood control or beach erosion projects.
The bill also provides $302,838,000 to the Water Pollution Control Administration, included in the amount is $214,000,000 for construction.

Nixon Arranges to Meet With Gov. Rockefeller

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon talked by telephone to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Mayor John Lindsay Tuesday and an aide said "both agreed to support the ticket enthusiastically."
Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, said the former vice president placed a call to the New York governor, his rival at the GOP National Convention, and won a pledge of active backing.
"Gov. Nelson Rockefeller couldn't have been more pleasant," Ellsworth said.
Nixon later called Lindsay, the New York mayor who backed Rockefeller, and had a "most pleasant" conversation, Ellsworth said.
The phone calls were made as Nixon worked to bring defeated rivals into his campaign and unify the party for the fall campaign.
Ellsworth said Nixon and Rockefeller will meet in New York City Aug. 21 and talk about the New York state campaign and Rockefeller's role in the national campaign.
Nixon also called Sen. Thorton Morton, R-Kan., the Rockefeller strategist at the convention, and arranged to meet with him at Nixon's seaside resort headquarters Wednesday morning.
Working in the private home he has rented not far from the resort, Nixon also telephoned Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania and Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, both Rockefeller supporters.
He made another call to Michigan's Gov. George Romney, an uncommitted favorite son at the GOP National Convention. Ellsworth said Romney "will play a major role in the campaign."
And Herbert Klein, Nixon's press aide, said the former vice president will meet with another unsuccessful rival for the nomination, California's Gov. Ronald Reagan, on Friday.
Ellsworth added up the results of the morning of phone calls — promises of national speaking tours from Romney and Percy and support from Walter N. Thayer of New York, described by Ellsworth as a Rockefeller backer.

Humphrey Gets 1st Detailed Post-Vietnam Budget Estimate

(C) N. Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey received Tuesday the first detailed estimate of how much money will be available to the new president for additional domestic spending or tax cuts after the end of the war in Vietnam.
In brief, the amount would be small in his first year—$2 billion to $4 billion—even assuming a cease-fire early in 1969. But it would rise rapidly after that to nearly $30 billion in the last year of his term, fiscal 1973. Both figures assume expiration on schedule next July of 10 per cent surcharge that took effect last month.
This outlook rests on two assumptions — a continuously prosperous economy and a return, after the war, to essentially the same military posture as before the war.
Commissioner Would Disarm Boy Scouts
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo wants to disarm the Boy Scouts.
At a City Council safety committee hearing Tuesday, Rizzo urged passage of a bill to control the open display of "cutting blades." He was asked if the ordinance is passed, would Boy Scouts violate it by carrying their traditional knives slung from their uniforms.
"We are not going to permit the Boy Scouts openly to carry their knives," he said.
The estimates, as good for the Republican candidate, Richard M. Nixon, as for Humphrey, were drawn up by a "task force" of six economists widely recognized as experts on budgetary matters. One of the co-chairmen was Charles L. Schultze, the former director of the budget.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Veteran state Rep. Marlon H. Crank captured Arkansas' Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Tuesday's runoff primary, blunting Mrs. Virginia Johnson's attempt to become the state's first woman chief executive.
Crank, 53, of Foreman, will meet Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in the Nov. 5 general election. Rockefeller, who won renomination easily in the July 30 preferential primary, is the state's first Republican governor since Reconstruction.
With 1,063 of 2,631 precincts reported, Crank had 77,957 votes and Mrs. Johnson 44,158.
Crank, completing his 18th year in the Arkansas House, had received almost 65 per cent of the vote with approximately 35 per cent tabulated.
Mrs. Johnson, 40, wife of the party's 1966 gubernatorial nominee, Jim Johnson, trailed from the start.
Bill Alexander, 34, an attorney from Osceola, won the Democratic nomination in the 1st Congressional District, defeating another attorney, Jack D. Files, 35, of Brinkley.
With 225 of 523 precincts reported, Alexander had 17,259 votes and Files 9,468.
The winner faces Guy Newcomb, 39, a druggist from Osceola, who was opposed for the Republican nomination.

VANDALS TIP OVER BOXES
Eight lovely flower boxes, standing in a row. But during Monday night vandals struck a blow. Eight lovely flower boxes—that everyone could see. Come Tuesday morning, there were only three. The boxes were placed to enhance the view for those traveling across Hickory street bridge. The damage was reported Tuesday by Jim Reier, parks and playgrounds superintendent, whose crews put forth a great deal of effort to keep Warren beautiful. (Photo by Mansfield)

TODAY'S THE DAY Bike Rodeo '500' Starts at 1 P.M.

Today is the day when boys and girls from throughout the county will be competing for some $220 in cash prizes in the second annual Warren Bike Rodeo "500".
Sponsored by the Warren County School District's recreation department and the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer, this year's Rodeo "500" will get underway at 1 p.m. at the Beatty Junior High School parking lot.
Prizes in the contest, which stresses bicycle safety, balance, skill judgment and general good handling ability, will be awarded to the top four winners in four age categories. First prize in each age group will be $25, with a $15 award for the second place winner in the age group, $10 for the third place winner and $5 for the fourth place winner.
Youngsters from six through 17 will be competing in their own age categories with competitions for those 6 to 8 years old in the peanut division; those 9 to 11 in the mid-get division; those 12 to 14 in the junior division; and those 15 to 17 in the senior division.
Bicycle inspection, by the borough police department, and registration for the rodeo will begin at 11 a.m. For all those who have not had their bicycles inspected this year, there is a 25 cent inspection fee.
Prizes will be awarded to the boys and girls who receive the highest number of points in their respective division. The highest number of points obtainable is 500.

Plane Forced Down; Occupants Unhurt

ALLEGANY, N.Y. — An Air Force couple's plane was forced down Saturday on an athletic field of St. Bonaventure University, near Olean, and tipped over as it rolled on the wet grass. Its occupants were unhurt.

Maj. and Mrs. Thomas Pulham of Alexandria, Va., at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and at the Pentagon, landed on the university territory when their four-seater light plane, a Piper Cherokee, ran short on fuel.

PUC Rejects Grade Crossing

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission Tuesday rejected a plan for construction of a grade crossing on Erie Lackawanna Railway tracks in Bradford Township, McKean County.

The PUC said the crossing, proposed by the Department of Highways as part of a limited access road, is "especially hazardous" because of a curve on Legislative Route 1022.

Rejected also as part of the plan was the proposed alteration of two other crossings where the railroad's tracks intersect Elm Street in Bradford and nearby Township Road 330.

"The department has failed to show that construction of the new crossing is necessary, or that it would enhance safety of the public," the PUC said.

Maj. Pulham had intended to refuel at Bradford Airport en route to Buffalo, but found air traffic too heavy. Told by air controllers to head for Jamestown Airport, he proceeded instead for Dunkirk, which is closer to Buffalo. Then the fuel supply forced him to land.

The plane's propeller was bent, the landing gear nose-wheel sheared off and the engine cowl damaged. On Friday a similar mishap involving a single-engine Piper Tri-pacer occurred at Salamanca Airport. Its pilot was also unhurt.

New Radio Station on Air

INDIANA, Pa. — Indiana County will have a new sound beginning Wednesday, Aug. 14, when FM radio station WQMU officially starts broadcasting at 9 a.m. It will operate at 103.1 megacycles.

Ray Goss, manager of radio station WQAD, will also head the FM station. Clearfield Broadcasting, Inc., is the licensee of both stations.

Benefit Carnival To Be Held

A neighborhood carnival for the benefit of muscular dystrophy victims will be held Friday and Saturday at 113 Dartmouth st.

More than 16,970 such carnivals were held last year by children across the country, raising over $275,822 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

Margaret Mary Redfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Redfield, will serve as ringmaster. Her assistants include Cathy Mashensic, Steve Banard, John Redfield and several others.

When the carnival begins at 1 p.m., the games will be such traditional carnival fare as ring-the-pop bottles, sponge toss, and penny pitch, plus the special added attraction of a fortune-teller. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy and the related diseases which afflict millions.

The idea of holding the event came from Dave Thomas on his "Rocketship 7" television show, seen on WKBW-TV, Channel 7.

Remodeling Of Hotel Gets Initial Okay

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. — The Jamestown Planning Commission gave its "qualified approval" to the proposal to remodel the former Hotel Jamestown, into a low cost housing project for senior citizens. The motion to give "qualified approval" offered by Fred J. Cusimano and seconded by Stanley M. Lundine, was unanimously approved.

The decision of the commission to give only its "qualified support" to the proposed housing project means the city council must now pass the measure by a three-fourths vote. Had unqualified support been given by the planning commission a simple majority of the council would have been enough for passage.

Several weeks ago Councilman, Warren T. Erickson, was the only councilman opposed to the project. Reliable sources said Tuesday night at least three councilmen are now opposed to the project. Should the council fail to approve the plan it would be considered the crushing defeat for Mayor Charles B. Magnuson.

Area Youth Apprehended; In County Jail

TITUSVILLE — Titusville police apprehended an area youth for parole violation over the weekend and, after questioning, charged him and a companion with several camp burglaries in the Warren and Erie County area.

James Williams, 19, of RD 2, Titusville and Robert Hicks, 21, address unknown, were lodged in Warren County jail on burglary and larceny charges after local police turned them over to state police for questioning.

Two other area juveniles, allegedly involved in the burglaries, were released to their parents' custody.

Williams was picked up by Titusville police for alleged parole violation and, after further investigation, found that he and Hicks had been sleeping out behind the city water works plant for several nights. At the campsite various articles, including eating utensils, plates and blankets, were discovered.

The four youths were questioned concerning the camp burglaries. Titusville police then released them to state police.

Six Hippies Are Charged With Vagrancy

Six alleged members of the so-called hippie colony, Harmonsburg, were picked up in Cambridge Springs Friday afternoon by the borough's Police Chief Robert J. Leonhart and charged with vagrancy.

At a hearing before Peace Justice Marion Gilson, a hearing was set for 3 p.m. Tuesday and in default of $100 bond, five of the defendants were committed to the county prison.

A 16-year-old girl with the group, also charged with vagrancy was turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Chief Leonhart said he arrested the group after they refused to heed his warning to leave the borough within half an hour. The officer claimed they only had two cents among all of them and no means of support. The group was in the park dangling bare feet in a small fountain, the chief said. Arrested were Philip Kehow, 20; William Smith, 22; Stephen Spencer, 18; Kenneth Nash, 18 and George Green, 18. All five gave Box 158, Harmonsburg, as their address, the chief said.

DR. CRANE TAKES HIS SHINGLE DOWN

Dr. J. F. Crane, director of medical and surgical services at Warren State Hospital for the past four years, removes his shingle from the tree in front of his home on Lansing st., North Warren. Dr. Crane is retiring. He expects to move, with his wife, to Clermont, Fla., where he hopes to pursue several hobbies, including photography, music and stamp collecting. Dr. Crane first came to Warren in 1923 as a staff member at Warren General Hospital. In 1929, he left Warren temporarily to attend the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., where he studied surgery. He returned to North Warren in 1934 and has maintained a continuous private practice in the community for the past 34 years. Dr. Crane states he has delivered approximately 5,000 babies in the Warren area, and his file contains over 100,000 cards referring to patients he has cared for. Dr. Crane says these records and the patients involved will be placed in the care of other competent physicians in the area before he and his wife leave for Florida, hopefully by the first of September. Native of Warren Has Finger In Lots of Theatrical Pies

A son of a Warren couple continues to carve his niche in the theatrical world.

He is George Thorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Thorn, who, according to Corbin Patrick, New York theatrical writer, has "fingers in more pies on Broadway today than anyone else he (Patrick) knows."

In addition to representing Cowles Hall there, George is production manager of "Golden Rainbows," a musical comedy starring Eydie Gorme; general manager of the exciting National Theatre of the Deaf, which played Cowles Hall last year. George is also co-general manager of "Her First Roman," a musical show based on Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" which had its final rehearsals in Boston at the Colonial Theatre and which opens Tuesday, October 8 at Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York to star Richard Kiley and Leslie Uggams.

According to his father, George is extremely enthusiastic and deeply interested in the National Theatre of the Deaf (NTD).

David Hays, managing director of NTD, writes that in 1958, when Anne Bancroft was studying manual language for her role in "The Miracle Worker," she met a famous psychologist of the deaf, Dr. Edna Levine, who outlined her own dream for a professional theatre of the deaf, for all people.

This dream was shared by Mary Switzer, Commissioner of the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The program was not realized at that time. With the formation of the Eugene O'Neill

Memorial Theatre Foundation in 1964, an ideal organization and atmosphere was created to develop this new medium and the many aspects of theatrical work which it embraces.

The goals of the federal government, which is supporting this program, are social as well as artistic. It is designed to bring fine theatre to a deprived deaf community and show skillful, bright and handsome deaf people to a world that maintains a distorted idea of them. It is also hoped to develop other programs for the deaf community.

Another facet of the project is to develop a script service whereby deaf persons can receive scripts in advance of pre-reading before attending a play in their locale.

Coincidentally, the Patrick column, "Between the Acts," mentions another former Warrentite who has risen to spectacular success, John Davidson, who appeared on theatre screens in two Walt Disney films, "The Happiest Millionaire" and "The One and Only Genuine Original Family Band." Davidson also starred in the New York City Center revival of "Oklahoma" and played the lead in "Carousel" at Kansas City Starlight.

Three Public Rabies Clinics Scheduled

Three public rabies clinics will be sponsored throughout the area by the Chautauque County Veterinarian Society and the Chautauque County Health Department. Free rabies shots will be given to dogs and cats only.

The first clinic will be located at the Dunkirk Police Garage on Thursday, Aug. 15, from 6 to 9 p.m. The Westfield Town Highway Garage clinic, on Chestnut st. in Westfield, will be held Thursday, Aug. 22, from 6 to 9 p.m. The last clinic will be held at the Jamestown Fire Department, City Hall in Jamestown, on Thursday, Aug. 29, during the same hours.

Any dog vaccinated before January 1, 1965 and those dogs from age six months, eligible to be licensed, must receive a rabies vaccination. No animal under age six months will be vaccinated.

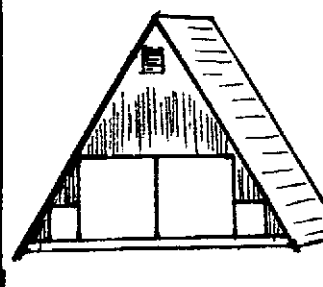

Animal owners are asked to bring the animals on a leash or in a suitable container. All animals must be accompanied by an adult or will not be given a vaccination. The owners are also asked to know the age, weight and breed of the animal.

Any animal with a history of illness one week prior to the clinic should not be brought to the clinic for a vaccination. The owner should contact a veterinarian and have the animal inoculated at a later date on a private basis.

County Fair Bigger And Better Than Ever

The Youngsville-Warren County Fair opened yesterday at the Warren County Fairground west of Pittsfield on Route 6.

Mrs. Milton Brown and Mrs. Earnest Steward share the distinction of being the first of 474 exhibitors to register exhibits. The number of exhibits is about 10 per cent above last year's record and more are expected this morning before the judging at 10 a.m. The Fair-goers last night had the opportunity to see two fun-filled events, the unusual lawn and garden tractor pulling contest, and the traditional "Greased Pig" Contest.

The winners of the tractor pulling contest were: Class A (up to 7 h.p.), first place, Randy Peterson, Youngsville; second, Pat Sweeney, Sugar Grove; third, John Frantz, Warren; Class B (7 1/2 to 9 1/2 h.p.); first, Clyde Vandenberg, Youngsville; second, Donald Probst, Youngsville; Class C (10 to 14 h.p.); first, George Loomis, Pittsfield; second, Dennis Chapman, Erie; third, Craig Briggs, Sugar Grove. In the Junior Division (8 to 12 year olds in tractors under 7 h.p.), places were won by: first, Craig Briggs, Sugar Grove; second, Sonia Probst, Youngsville; third, Allen Crocker, Pittsfield.

Six 4-H's To Enter District Review

Yesterday was the second and final day of the Warren County 4-H Round-up at the Warren County Fairgrounds.

Most of the morning was given to judging dresses made and modeled by 4-H girls.

The judges, Mrs. John Lafinger and Mrs. Sharon Corey (until recently, Warren County's 4-H home economist), awarded six County girls the opportunity of entering their dresses in the District Dress Review to be held in Knox, Pa., next Monday.

The winners were Mary Ann Wilcox, Marcia Wilcox, Beth Lindell, Diane Ludwig (all of Mrs. Kae Wilcox's Landersettes), Barbara Perschke and Rose Wilcox.

Later in the afternoon, the girls staged a Fashion Show. Still remaining on the 4-H schedule are the Dairy and Horse projects to be judged later in the week.

Shopping Center Plans Are Ready

LAKEWOOD, N.Y. — Detailed plans will be revealed next week for the multimillion dollar shopping mall on Fairmont ave., in Lakewood. Civic and business leaders, and members of the Jamestown area news media have been invited by the Edward J. Bartola Co., Youngstown, Ohio, to attend a news party and luncheon Aug. 21 at Moon Brook Country Club.

J. C. Penney Inc., and Sears Roebuck & Co. are two of the more than 75 stores expected to be in the proposed mall. Initial plans called for a large portion of the mall to be covered and air conditioned. Several attempts have been made by the city administration and the chamber of commerce to convince Sears to stay in its present location, but all efforts so far have failed.

Of special interest to cattle owners is the deadline today for entering cattle. All cattle must be registered by 8 p.m. today for the judging Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

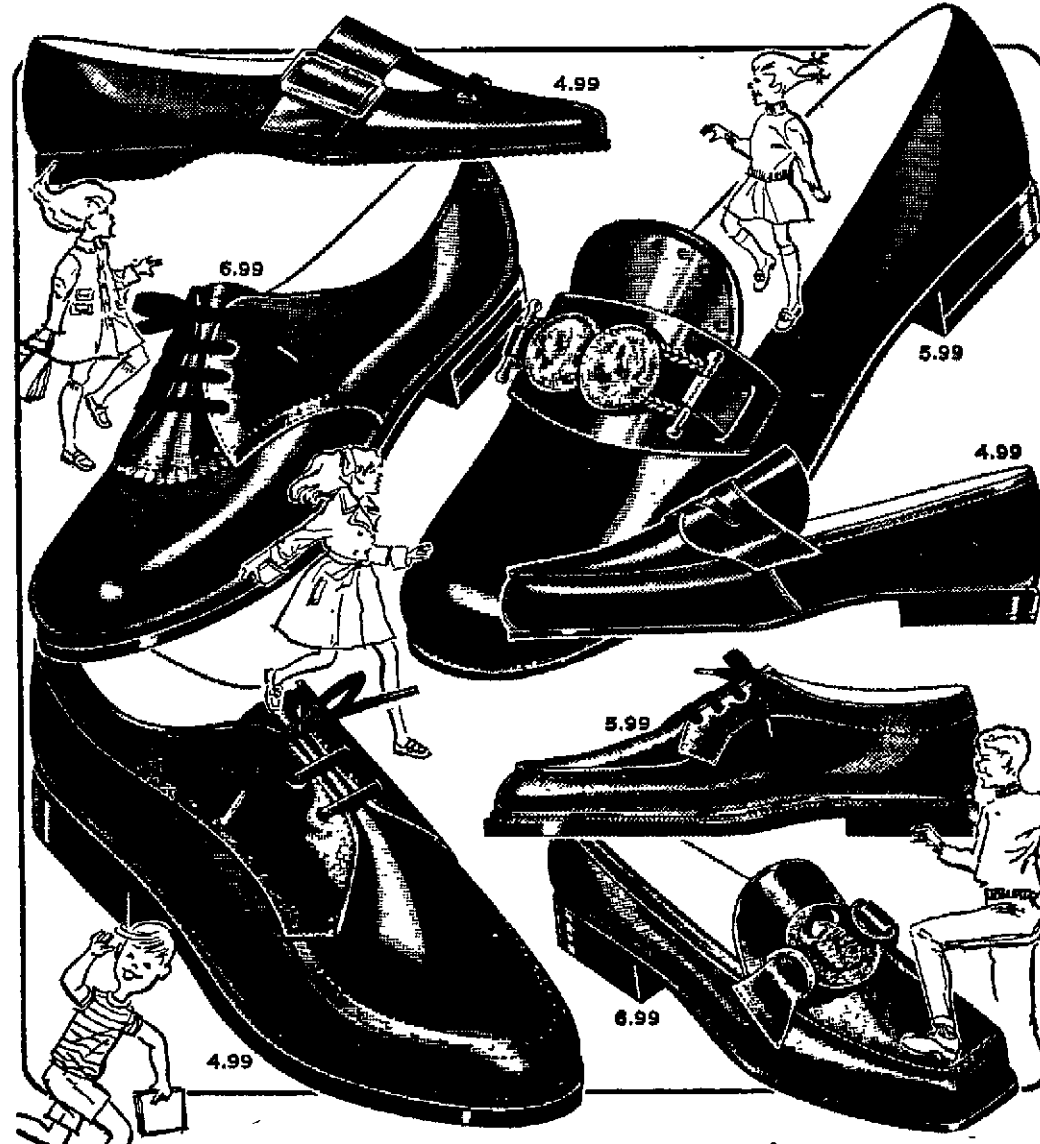

Tonight at 7, the exciting pony pulling contest will take place. Registration of entries can be made immediately before the contest.

Warren borough's police department had a busy month of July with 676 requests by phone for information. Police answered 163 calls, conducted 36 minor investigations and 18 major.

Stolen goods were recovered in the amount of $2,007 and money was guarded in transit 13 times. Fire calls answered totaled seven with nine doors found open or unlocked. Two funerals were escorted and one special event policed. There were 12 transients or overnight lodgers and 20 accidents investigated.

Borough Employees Get More Insurance Coverage

Most of Warren Borough Council's time Monday night was occupied with proposed legislation regarding traffic flow and no parking on Pennsylvania avenue east.

There were, however, other matters to come before the regular monthly meeting.

Dr. K. E. McDonald, referring to a June 29 ordinance passed to make group life insurance available to all borough employees, introduced a resolution that would give additional coverage to meet the increase in hospital expenses.

Additional benefits for the 83 full-time employees, under John Hancock Insurance, would include $560 extra per diem for hospital care and 70 days of hospitalization along with $300 in surgical costs. Increased benefits will cost the borough an additional $451.60 per month. The resolution passed unanimously.

Also passed unanimously was a resolution to enter into a contract with the State Department of Community Affairs to secure $86,230 toward the swimming pool complex. Once the contract is received by the state an initial $25,000 will be applied on account. Councilman Raymond Marti explained that council can later apply for a second grant provided extended plans for the complex remain within state specifications.

Alan Stevens, of the borough engineering department, who has been helping borough manager Victor L. Miller, was named assistant borough manager with $40 per month additional salary.

Passed on second reading was an ordinance regulating parking on the south side of Fifth avenue from Hickory to Hazel street, a measure approved by the residents of that area. Additional parking restrictions passed first reading regarding parking on the south side of Lexington avenue between Parker and Irvine streets. This regulation was requested by Sylvania as both a safety measure for their employees and a deterrent against dust and dirt that sifted into the firm's computers.

Lexington avenue residents voiced no objection to the move and parking needs can be handled through Sylvania's private lot.

Grand Valley Man Arrested

Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr. on Monday arrested a 22-year-old Grand Valley man who appeared in court for a jury trial.

Charged on warrants previously issued, with two counts of defrauding an innkeeper, was Archie Rosenberg Jr., RD 1, Grand Valley, who was found not guilty on charges of cheating by false pretenses by a criminal jury Wednesday afternoon. Jurists retired only one-half hour before bringing in their verdict for the defendant.

The new charges against Rosenberg, Allen said, stemmed from two separate occasions when the accused spent three nights in motels and left without paying the bills. According to police, in April, the county man stayed at the Warren Motel for three nights and in May, three nights at the Penn View Motel.

Rosenberg was released on $1,000 property bond, the sheriff stated.

Mishap Causes Minor Injuries

Borough police recorded a traffic mishap at noon Tuesday on Third avenue.

According to police, a car driven by Alex D. Zawacki, 23 Mason rd., traveling west, struck the car door of a car operated by Shirley Ann Bidwell, 1309 Market st., when the latter opened the door in front of the Zawacki vehicle. Driver of the Bidwell car suffered minor injuries but was not admitted for treatment.

Total damage was estimated at $200.

Plowright Production More Happening Than Play

By WALT ERBLAND

Plowright Playhouse this week is turning loose 23 talented, enthusiastic, charged young people and what happens is called "The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch."

"Sneaky Fitch" is more of a happening than a play. What else could you call it when the town's minister turns out to be Superman and the audience with little or no prodding joins in with several choruses of "Amen" and a football style cheer for the lovable anti-hero?

The thinly plotted play, a spoof on westerns by James Rosenberg of Carnegie Tech, provides a vehicle for unessential but highly entertaining singing, dancing and highjinx.

Marjorie Melnick has done a first rate job at directing, showing herself to be an innovator and disciplinarian. The use of white-face tableau dancers and the doubling and shifting of the principals' lines to secondary characters added considerably to the depth of the performance. Her ability to bring off these often intricate stylizations with a large cast earns her an "A" for leadership.

Denny Lane, a newcomer to acting, was excellent as Sneaky an unfortunate soul who gets two chances at life and goods both of them.

Kudos also to Dave Stoudour, an on again off again bully; the somewhat moral goodwives of the town, Jennifer Zuckerman, Marcia Hulse, and Isabelle Molinaro; narrators-singers Anne Buttrick and Peggy Kates; Annette Bamberger, the dance hall floozy; choreographer Shelly Haddad and her troop of dancers, Kim Whitton, Arleigh Brown, Jena Newton and Chris Brown; singers Nancy Medzilek and Marjorie Melnick; Mark Bliss, the temporizing minister; Brian Triplett, the sheriff; Ross Bryan III, an inebriated doctor; Ralph Seiffe, the mortician with a tape measure; and cowboys, Creed

Erickson III, Chris Wade and Doug Coates.

Perry Lee's lights and Bob Kates' scenery set the scene perfectly.

Crash Causes $2,500 Damage

A tractor trailer rig crashed into an embankment about one and a half miles west of Youngsville Monday causing an estimated $2,500 damage, according to state police of the local substation.

The accident occurred at 4:35 p.m., police stated, when the rig, operated by Glenn Patterson, RD Rockway, Pa., traveling west on Route 6 swerved to avoid hitting a car making a right turn, and went off the roadway striking the embankment.

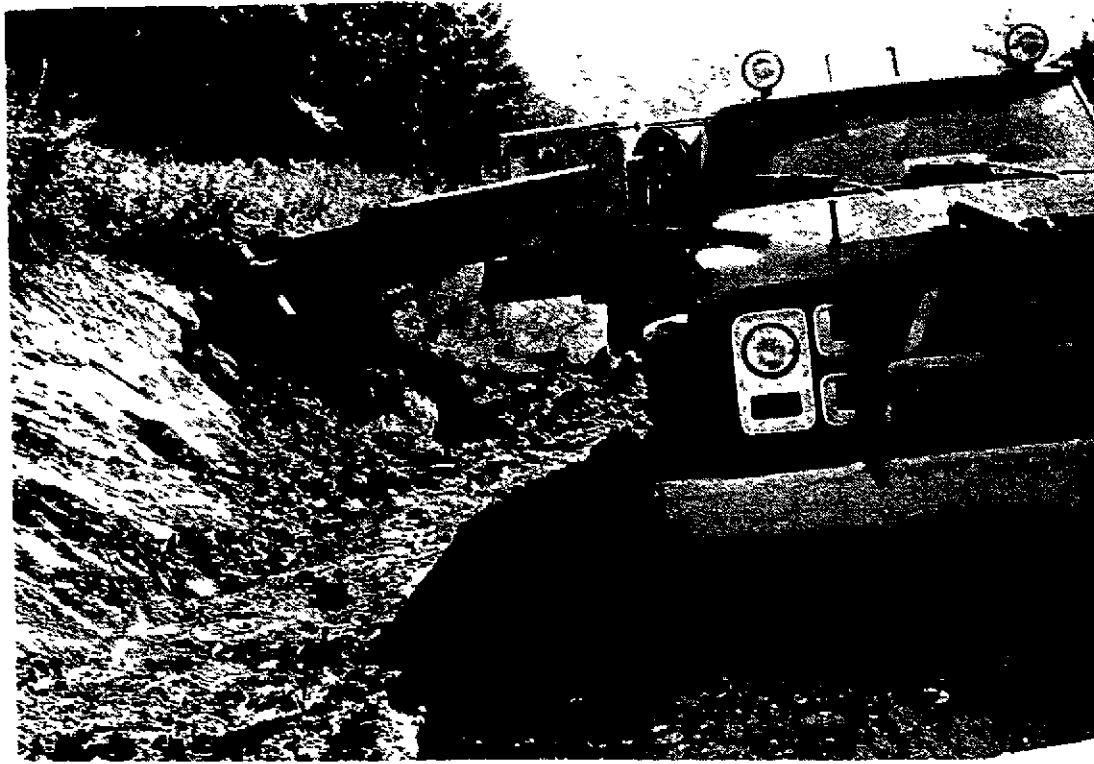

There were no injuries reported.

Testimony On Dredging Sought by Engineers

Testimony by interested persons and groups regarding a request for extension of dredging in the Allegheny River near Tionesta will be accepted until August 20, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers office in Pittsburgh.

Jack Sherman, owner of Tionesta Sand & Gravel Co., has requested the permit extension which covers approximately 10 miles of the river from near the bridge at Hunter Station to near the bridge at West Hickory.

Several individuals and a resort community downstream from Tionesta may present objections to the permit extension. The effect of dredging on fishing and swimming will be considered by Army Engineers in reaching a decision.

WIDENING COBHAM PARK ROAD

County Highways Dept. personnel continue widening operations on Cobham Park rd. Improvements on the much traveled roadway leading to the west bank of the Allegheny Reservoir, when completed, will add an additional 18 feet of hardtop to the width of the roadway with another five to six feet of berm on either side. Students from Low Income Families Win More State Scholarships

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency, reacting to public criticism, announced Tuesday that a greater percentage of state scholarships were going to students from low-income families.

The agency said it has awarded 45,073 scholarships totaling $30.5 million for the coming school year and rejected 11,946 applications, 16 per cent of which were requests for renewals from former recipients.

Paul L. Wagner, chairman of the agency's board of directors, outlined several previously announced changes in the scholarship program's eligibility requirements, all aimed at putting additional emphasis on the criteria of need.

"The major change in our need analysis procedure is to utilize line 9 of the Internal Revenue Service form 1040 rather than line 11b," Wagner said at a news conference called by the agency.

"This means that we have eliminated the credit for all the deductions a taxpayer could claim.... The items which caused us trouble and embarrassment last year were interest on mortgages, automobile loans and personal indebtedness."

Wagner said the changes would result in the availability of more scholarships for students from families with less than an $8,000 annual income or from big families which may have more than one child in college.

Figures released by the agency showed that 20,253 scholarships went to students from families earning less than $8,000; 19,900 to students from families in the $8,000-$12,000 range, and 4,892 to students from families making more than $12,000.

New standards adopted by the agency's board earlier this year prohibited the granting of scholarships to students from families with an annual income of more than $17,000. The board also scaled down the maximum grant from $1,200 to $800.

The agency said approximately 23,500 applications, representing about one-third of the total, have not yet been processed because of a need for additional information. Some $16.5 million remained in the scholarship fund for more grants.

In determining a student's need, the agency said it took into consideration family assets and income, number of dependents, number of children attending college and the cost of attending college.

Wagner noted as an example that it would cost a student more to attend a private university than a state-supported college, so, all other things being equal, the student would receive a larger scholarship.

"Although awards are readily understood when reviewed in this context, they are often questioned when neighbors compare awards without regard to the hidden support which one might be receiving through attendance at a state-supported school," Wagner said. "This is the reason why awards of neighbors will vary though the family circumstances may not."

Wagner, a former state senator from Schuylkill County, indicated that the agency has received several complaints from irate parents and that changes made in eligibility requirements were aimed at countering criticism which the agency considered justified.

Wagner also said it has instituted changes in the state guaranty loan program to assure the availability of loans to more students. He pointed to recent federal legislation increasing the partially subsidized interest rate to make the program more attractive to lending institutions.

"The agency is also announcing a special scholarship program for educationally disadvantaged students," Wagner said. "Starting with the second semester, PHEAA will make grants to students who scored less than 800 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test but have been admitted to college."

Wagner said the $200,000 program would be limited to students attending Pennsylvania institutions.

Negroes, Police Dispute Cause of Violence in Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Negroes and police disputed bitterly Tuesday the cause of violence that killed 3 and injured 48 in Watts.

Negroes blamed "police pressure"; police blamed "agitation."

Calm returned to the area, 10 miles from downtown Los Angeles, after the shooting and looting which flared at midnight Sunday.

The outbreak came at the end of the third annual Watts Summer Festival, on the anniversary of the 1965 rioting.

"Some of it was obviously organized," said Inspector Harold Yarnell of the police chief's administrative staff.

"It was more than accidental. How many people go to a festival with guns and rocks and bottles?"

"It was organized well enough to send waves of people forward, and then the crowd separated and the firing came from behind, and then the crowd closed again, knowing we couldn't fire into a crowd of people."

Yarnell pinned the blame on "a lot of agitators," but said police can't come up with "enough evidence of a conspiracy to go to court."

Negroes blamed police, "L.A. Pigs, Stop Killing Blacks," "No

Armed Police in the Ghetto," read signs in a demonstration at central police headquarters by about 55 persons, mostly whites.

"The L.A. Police Department just moved in and that's what precipitated it," said Walter Bremond, chairman of the Black Congress, "They used very bad judgment."

"They used too many officers during the festival. I don't know how many but it was too many. We want white officers out of the ghetto."

Police Chief Thomas Reddin, who quickly moved a 2,000-man force into the area when the shooting began, defended his "saturation" patrols.

"We prevented an incident from becoming much more serious, and we did obtain control," the chief said.

The outbreak began when police arrested a Negro woman for drunkenness near the end of the festival marking the 1965 rioting which killed 34 persons and caused $40 million damage.

The woman's arrest caused a traffic jam. Bottled and rocks were thrown at the police, and then sniper fire began.

Police reinforcements restored control before dawn Monday, but 22 buildings were damaged in looting and firebombing. The highest loss was about $2,000. Looters took 150 guns from a pawnshop and sacked a pharmacy.

Three Negro men were killed, and the injured included six policemen. There were 35 arrests, 28 of them on felony charges.

Police maintained constant patrols all day Monday and until nearly daybreak Tuesday, but the only activity was an increase in minor fires.

Early Tuesday police dropped the patrol force to 30 men and closed the command post they had set up in a high school.

Black Congress members crowded a City Council meeting Monday afternoon and warned of more violence if police-community relations were not improved.

They had planned to appear again Tuesday but decided to wait until Wednesday.

Attempt to Locate Pitt Travelers

State police in the area on Tuesday were attempting to locate Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Bemis, 7842 Thorn dr., Pittsburgh, traveling with their two small daughters.

The Pittsburgh couple were driving a 1962, black, four-door Rambler sedan pulling an Apache trailer. The vehicle bears Pa. Registration No. V09685 for 1968.

WARREN BOROUGH

The citizenry of Warren Borough owes a medal of commendation to its town fathers.

Monday night our representatives talked, listened and discussed the problem of traffic flow, parking and safety in this community. It was a heated topic that has been steaming for many weeks—although an issue for a number of years.

Basically the question was: should we eliminate parking on the entire south side of Pennsylvania avenue east?

The public safety committee of council said it should be. It appeared—at least for a while—council as a whole agreed it should.

However, a group of merchants (who formed the Pennsylvania Avenue Association) asked for further consideration before the proposed ordinance was passed. So did the Warren Borough Planning Commission and the Citizens' Advisory Committee.

Through spokesmen Monday night each of these bodies expressed their views, mainly in opposition but cognizant of the fact they were not qualified to solve the problem. They merely felt most likely there was a better solution. Council patiently listened to these spokesmen along with several others who asked for a better way than, among others, depriving merchants of their businesses and the public of access to same businesses. Some said the ordinance would turn the avenue into a ghost street or create a ghetto.

Basically, most agreed there is a traffic problem in Warren. They mainly felt more should be determined before a major move is made.

The pros and cons were good in many instances. But we feel the "pros" lost by the narrow 8 to 7 vote on the ordinance on the basis it should not be a hasty decision. At the same time the solution to the problem should be expedited; a point most seem to agree on.

The majority of the councilmen present Monday night apparently realized their responsibility to see that the issue be considered further. We are glad because this involves more than just an immediate need. It involves Warren's ever important tomorrow -- business-wise, industry-wise, tourist-wise; thus, economy-wise.

Now that we have had a break in the "heat-wave" maybe those mainly concerned will sit down and work toward an agreeable solution from a broader perspective.

There were proposals made and thoughts expressed Monday night regarding elimination of left hand turns, one-way traffic, direction markings. All have merit.

But while it has been stated the problem of traffic flow and traffic safety is council's problem, we do not believe this is true. We have other groups that can and should be helping to solve the above mentioned as well as the parking problem in Warren.

One such group is the Redevelopment Authority (urban renewal). The clearance of the antiquated buildings along the south side of Pennsylvania avenue west from Hickory street to Liberty street would provide room for a parking ramp with the possibility of business spaces on the ground level. This certainly would be an improvement from the standpoint of appearance, while it could provide hundreds more parking spaces and business facilities as well. There are other locations for parking ramps. And possibly the Parking Authority can do the job better, or faster.

The answer given for most delays in proposals for urban renewal projects is "there is so much red tape." Red tape be damned. If the community leaders stand up and scream maybe Warren will get its share of federal and state monies. But remember this, Warren should be prepared to do its share financially and otherwise.

Warren County was neglected by the state Department of Highways for many years until now. But after organizing a strong-willed highways committee to present its proposals and its demands in a sincere effort, new roads and improvements are finally coming to reality.

Let's become an octopus and use our many arms -- borough council, urban renewal, planning commissions, citizens' advisory, merchant and industrial groups -- to conquer our problems and strive now to protect a sound economic future.

Credit is Due

We must concede that whether the parking ordinance had passed or had been defeated (as it was), credit is due to Karl Timm and the members of his safety committee. There is no doubt in our minds that he and his supporters basically had the best interest of the community at heart with the proposed ordinance and the subsequent amendment. We also feel the opponents on council felt for the public.

Council President James Torrance during Monday's session asked that comments be directed (from the visitors) to the council as a body, not to individual members. But more noble was the way in which the town fathers acted in their presentations and the courtesy they showed in listening patiently to the voices of their visiting constituents.

It was one of council's longer sessions.

It was also a session that shows Warren Borough has an interested council.

Democrats Resting Easier

HARRISBURG — One thing certain at the moment: Pennsylvania Democrats are resting easier these days — in fact they're virtually lolling in high and dry.

They have their reasons: good reasons.

The one thing that stood as a somewhat horrifying and demoralizing specter to most Keystone State Democrats, as they peered ahead to the November elections, was the possibility that Pennsylvania Governor Shafer just might wind up somehow on the Republican national ticket.

With this possibility now over and done with, a prime worry and concern has been lifted.

The fact is that Pennsylvania donkey riders are convinced (they have been all along) that they can carry Pennsylvania in the presidential runoff this November — with Mr. Shafer out of the way (out of the way meaning not on the ticket).

This attitude now prevails stronger than ever notwithstanding the fact that they no longer control Capitol Hill and the State Legislature — and that their party registration has been consistently on the dip.

Their argument is simple — and most certainly not without foundation and considerable sense — in that if projected Democratic nominee Hubert Humphrey can carry the Keystone State in the presidential head-on this fall, they stand an excellent chance of pulling in many an office that otherwise in all probability would flower in the GOP garden.

With Mr. Shafer on the ticket their reasoning was — and again not without good foundation — that just the mere fact of having a Pennsylvania chief executive on the national score sheet would be enough to literally snow them under at the polls.

The fact that he is not on the ticket, plus the unexpected "bonus" that he negatized himself somewhat in his unsuccessful and dogged pursuit of the Rockefeller nomination bid last week, has proven more than enough to give donkey riders what might well be described as the happy twitch.

The feeling now is that notwithstanding their being the "outs" on Capitol Hill at the moment, they at least have a fair, equitable and sporting chance of pulling out of the November fray in excellent shape.

Those within the party who prophesied (even within their own ranks) the loss of the two fiscal offices up for grabs this year — State Auditor General and State Treasurer — are now revising their thinking in light of Miami Beach developments of the past week.

In fact they believe they now have a very strong chance of retaining these two statewide offices within the Democratic grasp. This undeniably would be an unexpected extra for the anxious donkey riders.

Many a Democratic lawmaker is heaving a tremendous sigh of relief at the turn of events in GOP land, convinced that in those cases where a return engagement may be borderline, it will now be pretty well firm.

In fact many a Democratic strategist on the state level is talking with deadly seriousness of snapping up control of the House of Representatives in the fall. It wouldn't take much; the elephant riders now hold control in the 203-seat lower chamber by a bare three votes.

JIM BISHOP

Debris Of Memories

A Presidential convention—either party—leaves a debris of memories when it is over. Miami Beach is an air-conditioned sandbox and 1,333 Republican delegates and their ladies played in it for a week. Some play desperately; some are in awe of palm trees and sudden showers; others wore their pencils to stubs trying to select the winner in advance.

It is difficult to determine, these days, whether the party is more important than the press, or vice versa. The delegate hasn't much more knowledge than his state chairman imparts to him; the reporter is welcome at every state delegation and he spends his time sifting lies from half-truths.

The delegates littered the Convention Hall floor with copies of the greater Miami newspapers and home-town sheets. Men like Huntley-Brinkley and Cronkite had as many as fifty men apiece gathering news for them and still managed to portray much of the proceedings as tedious.

Most of the delegations reserved rooms at hotels for the Saxony northward to the Fontainebleau, Eden Roc, Hilton, The Castaways and The Diplomat. Many spent time lacerating juicy steaks, tilting scotch, and roaring encouragement to Go-Go girls who had eyeballs painted on their navels.

They rented cars by the hundreds, skipped sessions to see the Seagarium, the Parrot Jungle and Lion Country. They played golf, gin rummy, yelled yippee in the halls in their underwear, and petitioned the Platform Committee not to take a stand on anything.

Some, wearing big fawn-colored hats, chartered fishing boats to go out in the Gulf Stream for the big sail fish and blue marlin. The night club shows were off-season third-raters, but the tables were packed. Nelson Rockefeller refused to shut up, and Richard Nixon refused to speak.

Everyone discussed credentials. The last press passes were awarded on April 15th. Any reporter who waited too long had to get one entitling him to sit in the press room and watch the proceedings on television. Western Union had a special office for the filing of stories and with sagging faces the rheumy-eyed telegraphers sat waiting for all that imperishable prose.

Florida officials, playing host to the Republican convention, tried to put on its best face. Governor Claude Kirk, an unpaid comedian, tried to drown the press in orange juice and gun. Mayor Jay Demner, of Miami Beach, was here, there and everywhere solving problems, placating angry delegates, assuring pompous politicians of a good time.

A man named Ducoff had charge of the Convention Hall, arranging everything from lectern to T.V. booths and, between sessions, supervising an army of people to clean up the place. He ordered a cop to put a summons on my car. A press agent, Hank Meyer, polished the tropical sun every night and tinted the clouds so that the Gold Coast of Florida would appear at its best.

There were prostitutes, too, and bar girls. These are common everywhere, legs crossed on stools, the caterpillar eyelashes lowered modestly. While Florida was busy selecting a nominee, the talk up and down the state was about George Wallace, the one-time truck driver who still runs through the red lights. He's a southern hero, like Jeb Stuart.

The beaches got a good play, and suntan lotion was applied one day late. The golf courses were hacked with flying sod. Delegates who overplayed their joys spent a day or two in Mount Sinai Hospital. When the conversation became serious among delegates, the question was always the same: "Will the losers campaign hard for the winner?" Like the Democrats, the Republicans come in three packages: liberal, conservative and extreme right.

To win the approval of those three wings, a man would have to be the world's most accomplished liar. Of course, this also applies to Humphrey and McCarthy in the other party.

It was the first time a national political convention was held in greater Miami, America's sunny sandbox. The delegates can now forget the intra-party battles. Getting that golden sand out from between the toes will take time. . .

"THEY WANT VOLUNTEERS FOR CONVENTION DUTY IN CHICAGO."

DREW PEARSON

Hubert's Four Running Mates

WASHINGTON — In order to avoid Nixon's last minute hassle in picking a vice president, Vice President Humphrey has picked four tentative running-mates and wants the Democratic party to take a good look at them in advance. They are:

1. Sargeant Shriver, married to the eldest Kennedy sister, now ambassador to France. Shriver organized the peace corps, was in charge of the anti-poverty administration and would have an appeal to youth.

2. Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, a former governor of that state and one of the ablest members of the Senate. He is of Polish descent and would have an appeal to the ethnic groups which are anti-Negro.

3. Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey, generally considered one of the ablest governors in the United States. He got into the limelight when he arranged for President Johnson to meet with Premier Kosygin at Glassboro, N. J.

4. Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco. Alioto is a newcomer on the national political scene but attracted attention when he debated with other big city mayors at the International Platform Association last month, and recently introduced Vice President Humphrey at a big fund-raising dinner.

All of the above are Catholics, all men have popular appeal and considerable experience. Humphrey likes them all, believes they would all be good vote-getters, even though some are not too well known. Incidentally he hasn't ruled out the choice of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, even though this would mean the loss of eleven Minnesota electoral votes because of the constitutional ban on voting for a President and Vice President from the same state.

Of the several million youngsters in this country urging peace in Vietnam, probably the most effective is David Truong, son of Truong Dinh Dzu, the man who ran second in last year's South Vietnamese elections and has now been sentenced to five years at hard labor. This is the equivalent of giving Barry Goldwater a jail sentence after he lost out to Lyndon Johnson in 1964.

Young Truong has been in Washington, New York and is now going to Chicago for the Democratic National Convention. Some of his friends were in Miami Beach judging the Republicans with the question: "How do you feel about the jailing of a losing candidate by the winner?"

The Vietnam education project in the Hotel Fontainebleau also reminded the Republicans: "Mr. Dzu is a Rotarian, likes the United States and presently has a son in Stanford University and a daughter at UCLA."

His son David Truong, tells this story of his father's trial and imprisonment:

"There were twelve soldiers inside the court room with M-16's and five others with machine guns.

"The presiding officer then read the evidence which consisted of two interviews which my father had given the UPI and BBC in London, plus a short resume of his campaign platform in which he had urged a coalition government.

"The presiding officer said very clearly that my father was accused of having urged a coalition government as the way to solve the war. "On cross examination my father cornered the presiding officer into admitting that what he, my father, meant was to provide South Vietnam with a viable political framework for every political party. The guy said yes.

"The brief clash between my father and the presiding officer was cut short because the five men presiding as judges had received instructions that the trial should not last more than two hours. My father's lawyer was told the time was up.

"All five presiding officers went into another room. One of them made a phone call to check on the sentence with his superiors. The sentence was five years of hard labor and the confiscation of our property. The second part was added because of my mother's press campaign in defense of my father.

"Right after the sentence, my father was hustled into a police truck under emergency security measures. He is now detained on an island usually referred to as the Alcatraz, where the late President Diem sent all political prisoners. It is pretty bad out there.

"There is not much the American embassy can do. It would be better to say that embassy officials did not want to damage relations between two allies.

"The fact remains that President Thieu abused the backing that President Johnson gave him in Honolulu to go back to Saigon and suppress the alternatives to his regime. This is how you are making Democracy live in Southeast Asia."

Young David Truong hopes to testify on the Vietnam war before the Democratic platform committee in Chicago. He could give interesting testimony. R will be interesting to see what happens.

NOTE — Something very strange happened when President Johnson went to Honolulu to confer with President Thieu. Before leaving Washington he had given indications that he might accept North Vietnam's de-escalation of fighting as a move which he could match with lessened bombing and thus pave the way for a truce. But President Thieu obviously talked him out of it. Perhaps like Gov. George Romney, LBJ was brain-washed. At any rate Thieu returned to Saigon and promptly slapped his No. 1 political opponent in jail.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Several remarks have been made to the writer about the fact that the close vote eliminating the no parking on Pennsylvania avenue was favoring the small minority of merchants involved. Nothing could be further from the truth. It is true that a comparatively large number of this group will now be able to stay in business and increase their activity, if for no other reason than to express their gratitude to and support of those of the council who did consider them, as well as the future life and appearance of urban Warren.

In all justice it should be mentioned right here that a large number of the enterprises and activities of civic Warren since 1920 have been originated or ably supported by the Retail Merchants Association, which has always been a part of the Chamber of Commerce. This retail association has for a number of years during this span of time been one of the most active groups in the Chamber of Commerce, doing the work with the assistance and financial support offered by the industries and the banks.

The future can be bright if the full cooperation of the council, the merchants association, the Chamber of Commerce, the industries and financial organizations can be maintained. Warren certainly need not degenerate to, quote, "The horse and buggy days." Sincerely, -s- Rex Biekarck

Sources For Students

This fall, more than 7,000, 000 students are slated for enrollment in U. S. colleges and universities. The financial squeeze on their families, at nearly every income level, will be more brutal than ever. Today, the cost of a B.A. degree easily can top $15,000, and if there are four children in the family, total costs easily can amount into the $60,000 range.

In addition to the low-cost federal-state guaranteed loan program just extended by Congress, analyzed in the previous two columns, there are these four other major college assistance programs:

1) Also under the Higher Education Act, Educational Opportunity Grants, ranging from $200 to $800, are expected to be awarded for the coming academic year to 275,000 students who can prove that they have exceptional financial need. These grants are matched by the college the student is attending.

2) Under the National Defense Education Act, more than 400, 000 needy students are now getting federal loans of up to $1,000 each year, interest-free while the student is in college. Students then have up to 10 years after they leave college to repay the loan, at a rock-bottom interest rate of 3 per cent a year. If a student goes into elementary or high school teaching, as much as 50 per cent of the principal may be forgiven and up to 100 per cent if he goes into teaching in a specifically designated poverty area.

3) Under the College Work Study program, some 310,000 students will get federally-subsidized part-time jobs at college during the coming year. The jobs pay between $1.00 and $3.50 an hour, for a total of up to $700-$800 per academic year. In addition, under this program, students are averaging about $600 a year in summer earnings.

4) Under the Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 (the "post-Korea G.I. Bill") 423,000 veterans have received benefits this year to help pay for their education. For an unmarried veteran, the monthly benefit is $130, and for a married veteran with no children, it's $155 a month. Under a new change in the law, the age limit for assistance has been raised from 23 to 26.

5) Under Social Security, more than 400,000 college students between the ages of 18 and 22 are now receiving monthly benefits as dependents of deceased or disabled workers, to help pay college education costs.

6) Most colleges have their own scholarship-loan-job programs as well, usually in the form of a "package" designed to fill the gap between the amount a family is able to contribute and the actual education costs. Most use the following suggested guide, just updated by the College Entrance Examination Board in New York City, to determine how much of the total education costs the typical family is expected to contribute. The base is net family income before federal income taxes:

Family Income	No. of Dependent Children
$ 6,000	$ 680	$ 420	$ 240
8,000	1180	830	590
10,000	1570	1200	930
12,000	2000	1560	1230
14,000	2430	1910	1530
16,000	3040	2250	1830

Happenings Years Ago

1948

A crew of girls from Atlanta, Ga., who were soliciting magazine subscriptions without securing a license at the city building, were rounded up by police. They left for Corry to pursue their activities there. Joseph V. Passaro, teacher and assistant coach at Warren High School, has completed the work required and was granted his master's degree by Duquesne University this week. Mr. Passaro instructs all commercial subjects here.

1958

Bell Telephone Company has added four new sidewalk telephone booths in Warrenborough for the convenience of travelers and all-around public advantage. At time of going to press reports were that a large crowd was gathering for the picnic at Island Park, Youngsville, sponsored by the Warren County Republican Committee and honoring Arthur McGonigle of Reading, candidate for governor and other nominees on the ticket.

Czechs Give Gold, Cash To Strengthen Government

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
PRAGUE — Czechoslovaks are voluntarily donating gold and money to their communist government to strengthen it in its struggle for liberalization, but the regime is emphasizing that it wants the people to work harder and more efficiently.

"Attention should be paid primarily to raising work productivity and to greater economy," the government declared last week after expressing gratitude for the spontaneous contributions to the New Fund of the republic.

Since then, Communists and non-Communists have kept coming into the offices of the State Bank to offer earrings and other gold baubles and cash for the fund, which was started last month when Soviet military intervention seemed imminent. So far, 40 pounds of gold and the equivalent of nearly $20 million has been given to the fund. But there are few signs yet that Czechoslovak workers, if they turn up at their jobs at all, have shortened their frequent breaks for coffee or beer, or begun the drive to raise their output, cut waste and improve the quality of their products.

Why should they? "Machinery in our factory is obsolete, machines that are 40 years old are no exception," Václav Kováň, a Prague mechanical worker has just written in a letter to Prague, the labor newspaper. "Young workers must wait for 10 years to get an apartment, and still have to pay crowns 40,000 ($2,500). The money goes to housing cooperatives. Kováň's letter was a rebuttal of the contention by Rude

Groundbreaking For Raystown Dam Is Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ground may be broken in December for the proposed Raystown Dam in Central Pennsylvania, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D.Pa., said Tuesday.

Clark noted the possibility in telegrams to officials in Huntington, Minn. and Juniata Counties shortly after President Johnson signed the $4.6 billion public works appropriations bill. A total of $4,365,000 is earmarked this year for the Raystown project, located in Pennsylvania's Appalachian region. The cost of the completed dam is estimated at about $50 million.

"Completion of this dam in about five and one-half years will bring to Central Pennsylvania one of the largest dams in the Eastern United States," Clark's telegram said. He said the Army Engineers plan to call Aug. 26 for bids on major construction contracts. The bids will be opened Oct. 8 and contracts could be awarded in November, Clark said. He said the dam structure will be 230 feet high, 1,700 feet long and include a 90-foot spillway with two gates.

Clark has said the dam will eliminate 73 per cent of the potential flood damage along the Juniata River and 11 per cent on the lower Susquehanna River.

He also predicted during appropriation hearings on the project that it will also "meet one of the pernicious pollution problems in Pennsylvania—the problem of acid mine damage."

Shafer Will Meet With Nixon

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer's office confirmed Tuesday that the governor intends to meet with Richard Nixon next week in Harrisburg to discuss the fall presidential campaign.

Assistant Press Secretary Robert C. McCormick said Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, requested the meeting in a telephone conversation with Shafer Monday night at the governor's Indiantown Gap residence.

McCormick said the governor intended to elaborate on the conversation at his news conference in Harrisburg Wednesday. He added that no firm details on the Nixon visit were available at this time, not even the precise day next week.

At the same time, it was learned that Republican State Chairman John C. Jordan was en route to Nixon's vacation headquarters in San Diego, Cal., to meet with the presidential candidate, along with the 49 other state GOP chairmen.

Both Shafer and Jordan were active supporters of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's unsuccessful bid for the nomination.

McCormick said the telephone call to Shafer was in keeping with Nixon's plans to confer with leading Republican personalities across the country who did not actively support his candidacy at the Republican National Convention last week in Miami Beach, Fla.

Pravo, the Communist party organ, that 20 years of communism had brought Czechoslovakia's workers social security. The letter neatly summarized the reasons for the country's low productivity: antiquated equipment and lack of incentives.

Another letter to Pravo on the same theme, from the tenants of house no. 1170 in Prague's fourth district, read: "We don't understand the claims (by Rude Pravo) that the pre-January era brought the workers social security, when it brought us to the verge of economic breakdown."

The pre-January era was that of Antonín Novotný, a holdover from Stalinism who was replaced as Communist party chief by Alexander Dubček on Jan. 4. The Dubček regime has insisted from the beginning that its efforts to liberalize and democratize Czechoslovak communism must be underpinned by an economic renewal. But progress is slow on this all important goal.

During the last few years, Czechoslovakia has represented a rarity in world economics: an industrial nation on the brink of a negative growth rate. While most industrial and some developing countries briskly advance, the gross national product of Czechoslovakia — the sum of the goods and services produced by her economy — remained almost stationary, or, occasionally, actually shrank.

Ludvík Ubl, first deputy foreign trade minister, pointed recently to his nation's economic barter deals and other ties with the Soviet Union as major reasons for the economic mismanagement of the last years. "As a result of the big volume and stability of Czechoslovak deliveries to the Soviet Union, this country as a producer and a trader became used to a certain self-indulgence that contributed to the general deterioration of our goods and capacity to compete," the official declared in Rude Pravo.

Czechoslovakia now wants to become again competition on world markets to diminish economic and political dependence on the Soviet Union. To create more incentives for workers, the government has just announced that it will increase investments for housing, consumer goods industries and services. The regime's economic council has recommended that the New Fund for the Republic be used mainly for additional apartments and other improvements in living conditions.

West Virginia Standing Firm For Humphrey

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—West Virginia delegates favoring Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination are standing firm in the face of several moves to swing votes away from the vice president.

With the Democratic National Convention less than two weeks away, an Associated Press poll of the state's 38-member delegation shows Humphrey with 20 publicly committed delegates.

Four delegates are on record as supporting Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and 14 are uncommitted. The figures represent a shift of only one delegate from the Humphrey camp to an uncommitted side since the last poll taken on Aug. 1.

A flurry of activity the past week apparently has failed to dent Humphrey's strength.

— Sen. George McGovern's announcement of his candidacy. — A movement to nominate West Virginia Sen. Robert C. Byrd as a favorite son candidate.

— And a controversy over selection of state delegates to serve on four major convention committees.

Meantime, Secretary of State Robert Batley announced that George Wallace has qualified for a place on the November ballot.

Batley said Wallace collected 9,700 signatures on petitions circulated on his behalf. Only 7,900 were required.

Engineers To Build Dike In Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Army Engineers will build by 1970 a dike in Lake Erie adjacent to Burke Lakefront Airport to prevent any dredged material in the Cuyahoga River from entering the lake, U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said Tuesday.

Vanik said bids for construction of the 3,000-foot dike will be taken Sept. 12. Some 600,000 tons of stones will be used in the construction, he added.

The congressman hailed the dike as "a great victory" in the fight against pollution in the lake.

He said it also would serve as a potential for expansion of Burke Lakefront into a fully commercial airport.

FACTS & ISSUES

from the
League of Women Voters
Warren Area

When we first began our study called "Warren Area Development" it seemed important to learn what groups are working for a better future for Warren. Since adopting the study for another year we find it all the more important to keep informed on what roles the different governmental agencies can play. This column in the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer is an attempt to share our findings with the citizenry.

First, to prevent Warren from suffering more blight or haphazard growth, we agree that orderly planning and action are essential. We want Warren to grow in a planned, knowing way. The possibilities that lie ahead ought to result in everyone's saying "Warren's a great place to live."

Towns not far away can complain of dying business centers, with outlying shopping plazas springing up where taxes are low, and customers can park. Right now newcomers to Warren find it very hard to locate decent or enough housing. Turning to those working for a better future for our community, however, we find a number of different groups:

1. Warren Borough Council has its planning committee. It is made up of three councilmen, with Ray Marti as chairman. It reports to Borough Council on planning ideas, many of them developed by an off-council group, the Warren Borough Planning Commission. One project is the extension of Conewango ave. to Lexington for quicker traffic flow and easier access to the new Oak street recreation area. Funds from the state's Project 70 helped purchase the land.

2. Warren Borough Planning Commission has five members, none of them councilmen but their appointment to the commission must be approved by the council. This body has done outstanding work in the past, approving the borough master plan and overseeing the famous Neighborhood Analysis, which in book form you may borrow at the public library and find how your own dwelling place is analyzed.

Because of the death of Robert M. Kinkead, and the resignation of two other members, practically a new borough planning commission was formed. This was in November 1967 with John Eberly, chairman. They met in April and will resume work in the fall.

3. Warren Borough Parking Authority was created in 1947 as a corporation. It is not an advisory group, but has complete powers and makes annual reports to the state. We did a recent interview with Jacob Levinson, chairman of the authority and will report on it in a future column.

4. Warren County Planning Commission, turning to the county groups, was created by the county commissioners in 1958. Its nine members, with Kermit Forsgren as chairman, passes on subdivision plans, enforces zoning, reviews highway plans, among other duties. It created, with the professional work of Robert Peterson, the Warren County Master Plan. William R. Rusin is the new planning director.

5. Warren County Redevelopment Authority was formed in 1964 with Plue Wendelboe the executive director. Its job is to put to work plans approved by a governing body for urban renewal. It buys up properties for renewal, and helps with relocating. It re-sells properties to the Parking Authority and private sources for rebuilding.

6. The Citizens Advisory Committee, formed by a federal mandate under urban renewal, aims to be the citizen's representative. Its 15 men and women led by Gerry Archibald meet monthly to hear complaints and recommend action to council, the planning commissions, and other redevelopment groups. It alerts the public through publicity in the press and radio. It will provide speakers for organizations wanting more information on Warren's programs.

7. Warren Housing, Inc., is a very important group. It tackles the great housing problem which our area has, along with many other towns. It is headed by John Hanna Jr. Recently it hired a firm to make a survey of Warren's actual housing needs.

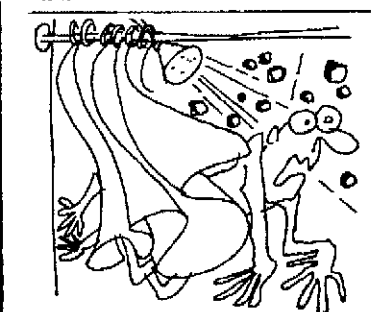

8. Warren County Chamber of Commerce, with Barry Epstein as executive secretary, is beginning a two-year program of expansion. Hand in glove is the Warren County Redevelopment Association, which works with industrial projects under its president, Charles Williams.

9. The Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau, headed by LeRoy Schneek, president, is a promotion group to show how we can take better advantage of the tourist industry here.

We will concentrate in future columns on each of these groups. Two weeks from today watch for a League of Women Voters description of the council planning committee and the Warren Borough Planning Commission.

Burglaries, Mischief Probed

Deputy sheriff Douglas Irwin investigated one incident involving malicious mischief and two camp burglaries over the weekend.

Irwin stated that a camp on the Russell-Scandia road, owned by Don Schuler, of 115 Main st., North Warren, was entered sometime last week by persons unknown. Windows were broken with stones and a table along with several flower pots were overturned.

At another camp on the Newton-Sanford road, Irwin reported a screen was torn off and windows broken. The camp was entered, several cans of food were eaten and several articles of clothing taken. The camp was owned by John Rentscher of Ashtabula, Ohio.

The sheriff's office also said a camp owned by Carl Ashplunk at Hackney Meadows was entered by a juvenile on July 28 when again a screen was removed and windows broken. Several items were taken but all have been returned.

The juvenile has been referred to the proper authorities.

Touring Golf Pros Plan Their Own Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — Golf's tournament pros, including the stars seen almost weekly on television, broke with the parent Professional Golfers Association Tuesday and prepared—starting next year—to run their own tour.

The players, meanwhile, promised to honor existing contracts, including some running into 1969. They tee off Thursday in the $250,000 Westchester Classic at Rye, N.Y., the world's richest tournament.

The split was bitter. The PGA accused the players of spurning an eight-point plan that gave them numerous concessions. The players, through attorney Sam Gates of New York, accused the PGA officials of showing bad faith and exhibiting dilatory tactics.

The result of the action is this: The tournament pros, who play for close to $6 million yearly, will set up their own independent organization and probably appoint a commissioner with near czarist powers.

"This commissioner—or executive director, whatever you want to call him—must be a tough-minded man," explained Gates. "The tour will be run like a big corporation with a director answerable to a board of directors."

The PGA, which came into being on a shoe-string 52 years ago and which led the tour from a hamburger to a jet-plane operation, probably will try to continue with a tour of its own.

"We will always have a tour," said the PGA secretary, Leo Fraser of Atlantic City.

However, it appeared unlikely that the PGA, at the present time at least, would be able to hold the sponsors, who got up the $100,000 to $200,000 events, or the big television money, which likely will go where the big names are.

The big names apparently are slated to join the player revolt. While an accounting hasn't been made officially, these are expected to include such celebrities as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Julius Boros and Lee Trevino.

Gates said that more than 100 players, assembled in Akron last week for the American Golf Classic won by Nicklaus, had voted unanimously in favor of the break.

Nicklaus, rated the world's No. 1 tournament pro, is a member of the Players' Tournament Committee, which sparked the action. Other members are Gardner Dickinson, chairman; Doug Ford and Frank Beard.

The crux of the dispute was the players' demand for greater control of the tour.

They resented being dictated to by an organization, the PGA, composed largely of club pros. The membership is about 5-1 teaching pros over playing pros.

American League

Sonny Tames Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sonny Siebert stopped Detroit on three hits Tuesday night and Larry Brown's bases-loaded single in the second inning gave the Cleveland Indians a 1-0 victory that snapped the Tigers' American League-leading winning streak at four games.

Siebert twice stranded Detroit runners on third base and struck out eight on the way to his 12th victory against nine losses.

Tony Horton opened the Indians' second with an infield single and took third on Duke Sims' double. One out later, Max Alvis drew an intentional walk, filling the bases, and Brown punched a run-scoring single to center. That pinned the loss on Pat Dobson, 3-5, who allowed only one other hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Rico Red Sox Star

BOSTON (AP) — Rico Petrocelli's third run batted in of the game snapped an eighth-inning tie and gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

Ken Harrelson opened the Red Sox eighth with a triple and with one out, Joe Foy was intentionally walked. Petrocelli followed with a sacrifice fly, delivering Harrelson.

Petrocelli had homered and doubled earlier as the Red Sox hopped into a 3-1 lead, but Chicago tied the score on Tom McCraw's two-run homer in the sixth.

Oliva Leads Twins

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Tony Oliva lashed three singles Tuesday night, driving in three runs and leading Minnesota to an 8-4 victory over Washington.

Oliva drilled a run-scoring single in a three-run Minnesota first inning, then collected his third hit in the fourth to drive in two more runs as the Twins tallied five times to take an 8-2 lead.

Rod Carew got three hits and drove in one Twins run with a fourth-inning double.

The other key blow for the Twins was Jim Holt's two-run double in the fourth.

Tom Hall, a 20-year-old left-hander who a year ago was pitching for Wisconsin Rapids in the Class A Midwest League, gave up 11 hits to the Senators but was helped by three double plays.

Stokes Benefit

Game Held

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Johnny Green of the Philadelphia 76ers scored six points in the final four minutes and led the West team to an 84-83 victory over the East Tuesday night in the annual Maurice Stokes Benefit Game featuring players of the National Basketball Association.

Green was the game's high scorer with 16 points. Len Wilkens of the Atlanta Hawks had 15 points for the West.

Willis Reed of the New York Knicks paced the East with 13 points while Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Butch Kivimes of the Knicks had 11 each.

Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 ace recently traded to the Los Angeles Lakers by Philadelphia, scored four points for the West. The game raised $15,725 for Stokes, the former NBA star, who was stricken by sleeping sickness 10 years ago and has been paralyzed since.

SATCH SIGNS UP

The venerable Satchel Paige, who may be 70 years old, isn't giving up his chance to pitch in the majors. Satch is shown with William Bartholomay, president of the Atlanta Braves, who signed Satch to a Braves contract. Satchel was a deputy sheriff in Kansas City when he decided to come out of retirement.

National League

Cubs Stop Cards Again

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Santo drove in four runs with a double and home run Tuesday in pacing the slugging third baseman to a 10-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was the runner-up Cubs' seventh straight triumph over the league leaders and trimmed the Cards' margin to 12 games. Santo's two-run homer, his 17th of the season, in the seventh snapped a 3-3 tie. It gave the slugging third baseman a perfect day at bat. He singled in the first inning, drove in two runs with a double in the third and walked in the fifth and eighth.

The Cubs clinched the victory with a five-run spree in the eighth.

Ferguson Jenkins of the Cubs notched his 13th victory against 11 defeats although he was rapped for 12 hits. The 6-foot-5 right-hander, however, struck out 12 increasing his league-leading total to 180.

Reds Win in 10th

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mack Jones cracked a leadoff double in the bottom of the 10th inning and scored on Tony Perez' single, sending the Cincinnati Reds past the Atlanta Braves 9-8 Tuesday night in a 35-hit slugfest.

Pitcher Ken Johnson sent the Braves ahead 8-7 in the ninth with a two-out, run-scoring single, then was tagged for a bases-empty homer by Leo Cardenas in the Reds' half, knotting it 8-8.

Astros and Phils Split

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pinch hitter Gary Sutherland's run scoring single snapped a tie, and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated Houston 4-2 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader Tuesday.

Houston won the opener 5-0 behind the four-hit pitching of right-hander Don Wilson. Doug Rader tagged a two-run homer.

The Phillies, scoreless for 30 innings, finally tallied a pair of runs in the fourth inning of the second game as Rich Allen's two-run homer, his 24th of the season.

In the twilight game, Wilson struck out eight and walked two in recording his ninth victory in 21 decisions. Only once, in the fourth, did the Phillies put two men on the bases, and Wilson worked out of that by getting Cookie Rojas on an infield out.

Quarterback Bill Munson Will Lead Detroit Lions

DETROIT (AP) — It may take all of Coach Joe Schmidt's five-year contract to make a National Football League contender out of the Detroit Lions, but the former All-Pro linebacker is hoping quarterback Bill Munson can shorten the process.

"We gave up a lot to get Munson," admits Schmidt, in his second year as head coach. "But we needed a quarterback. I think he has the ability and the confidence to lead this club."

The mood at the team's suburban Bloomfield Hills training camp supports Schmidt's thesis. For the first time since the free-wheeling brawling championship days of Bobby Layne, the team has a No. 1 quarterback who will be in charge on the field.

Munson has polish after four years with the Los Angeles Rams. He has a strong arm and a quick delivery. But his major asset is confidence.

Munson played out his option with the Rams last season after warming the bench behind Roman Gabriel and losing his starting job because of a knee injury in 1965.

Shirley Wins

Ladies Pro Golf

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Shirley Englehorn, the 27-year-old brunette from Caldwell, Idaho, won the $28,500 Concord Ladies Professional Golfers Association Tourney by three strokes Monday when she posted a one-under-par 76 for a 54-hole total of 229.

Temple Names

Two Coaches

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Temple University announced Tuesday the appointment of Tom Urbanik and Bob Marshall to the football staff.

Urbanik was an outstanding back at Penn State, while Marshall lettered in football, wrestling and golf at Temple.

Urbanik will coach the freshmen, succeeding Jerry Preschutti, promoted to the varsity.

Etchebarren Out

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles shavestolost catcher Andy Etchebarren for an indefinite period, perhaps for the remainder of the season, it was reported Tuesday.

The Baltimore Evening Sun, in a dispatch from Oakland, said the 25-year-old catcher broke a bone in his right little finger when struck by a foul tip in the 10th inning of Monday night's game with the Athletics.

Wooten Goes To Redskins

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — John Wooten, 31-year-old guard who was released by the National Football League Cleveland Browns last month after a racial controversy, reported to the Washington Redskins training camp Tuesday and worked out.

A Redskins spokesman said Wooten had agreed to terms.

Physicals Slated

Football candidates for Eisenhower High School are to report for their physicals at the school at 6:30 p.m. today. Dr. George W. Riley will give the physical examinations. Players are reminded that the first practice will be at 3:30 p.m. Thursday Aug. 28.

DETROIT had a 5-7-2 won-lost-tied record last year, the team's 10th straight season under the two-quarterback system.

Schmidt gave up quarterback Milt Plum, halfback Tommy Watkins and flanker Pat Stud still, plus a high draft choice to get Munson.

The soft-spoken, often taciturn Schmidt gambled heavily on rookies Mel Farr, Lem Barney and Paul Naumoff last season and plans similar major switches this year with rookie Nick Eddy, Earl McCulloch and Jerry DePoyster.

Farr gained more than 800 yards rushing and was named the NFL's offensive rookie of the year by the Associated Press last year. Barney, won the defensive honors on the strength of 10 pass interceptions as a rookie cornerback.

Naumoff replaced since-traded Ernie Clark at an outside linebacker position at midseason last year.

"Farr and Barney have a year's experience," said Schmidt. "We have some good rookies in camp and traded to strengthen our defense. If we stay free of injuries, we should be a better ball club."

Les Rettberg Team Wins CVCC Pro-Member

The Les Rettberg team won the Pro-Member Golf Tournament at Coneywango Valley Country Club, Ed Morgante, club pro, was in charge of arrangements for the tourney.

There were 21 teams and 27 competing professional golfers taking part.

Matt Voigt's 74 was low gross score for an amateur. Three pros shooting 70s were Frank Comisso, Sam Urzetta and Joe Demino.

The Rettberg team of amateurs Dave Snyder, Louis Carter and Stu Nelson had a best ball score of 58.

Second, with a best ball score of 59, were Pro Armand Lannuti and amateurs, Walt Therno, Joe Caprino and Scott Calderwood.

Two teams were tied with best ball scores of 60. They were Pro Pete Brennan, Do Phillips, Dave Dahler, and Red Farr; Pro Ed Golen, Dr. T. M. Kottraba, Bob Phillips, and Gaston Hamilton.

Three teams tied at 61 were: Pro Dick Howell, Hal Bright, Harry Kopf, Tim Kay; Pro Ed Bello, Pat Murphy, Chuck Johnson, Dr. Kottraba; Pro Wally Holmes, Bill Bruckman, Dr. Frank Butt, Don Morgan.

Other low gross amateur scores were: Dr. Kottraba and Ross Fisher, 75s, and Joe Scallise, 76.

Other low gross pro scores were: Ed Morgante and Armand Lannuti, 72s; Tom Murphy, 73; Fred Urzetta, Jack Lumpkin and Jim McCoy, 74s; Joe Diego and Pete Brennan, 75s; Les Rettberg and Ken Yount, 76s; Joe Oliver, Dick Howell and Paul Schojan, 77s.

Golf's Choking Price? $250,000 Westchester

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — The pro tournament golfers, who are the most affluent in sports, find their choking price this week in the $250,000 Westchester Classic, the world's richest.

One of the more than 150 in the select international field will come down to the 72nd hole Sunday perhaps needing a six-foot putt to win the $50,000 first prize.

"That's enough to make you want to swallow your Adam's apple," said Lee Trevino, the Mexican-American who won the U. S. Open in June.

"Money isn't the most important thing but when you make golf your business you have to

Golf Conflict Changes Sked

Due to conflicting schedules at the Coneywango Valley Country Club between the Warren High School golf team and a scheduled tournament, plans for the organization of the golf team this Monday have been cancelled.

Instead, a 36-hole round will be played on Monday, Aug. 26, at 8:00 a.m. Anyone interested in playing on the squad this year should report then. Any questions or conflicts should be directed to Coach Shantz at 723-5879.

Game Cancelled

The second game scheduled in the City Softball League between Warren Beverage and Nichol's has been cancelled. The only game that will be played tonight will be a tilt between Bettis and Mineral Well.

Bill Henry, 40, Leaves Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates asked waivers on veteran pitcher Bill Henry Tuesday, then purchased catcher Chris Cannizzaro from their Columbus, Ohio, farm to fill his spot.

Pittsburgh said waivers were asked for Henry, obtained in a June 27 trade with San Francisco, to give him his unconditional release. Henry, 40, appeared in 10 games for the Pirates and had no record. Overall, he was in 17 games this year and was 0-2.

Cannizzaro, formerly with the New York Mets, was batting .237 in the International League. His spot at Columbus was filled by catcher Timmy Murtaugh of Pittsburgh's York farm.

Rec League Plays Three

It was a hot time in the Rec League last night as Sub Shop pounded R. W. Norris 21-7. City Ice and Beverage topped Sheffield Tavern 11-9 and DeVore's Keystone whizzed past Thomas Coupling 18-4.

Charlie Pettit hurled the win for City Ice while Tony Mihalco suffered the loss. Homers were bombed for the winners by Ed Cummings, Dick Merenick, and Roger Stewart. Bill Cummings, Bill Slocum, and Frank Suppa all snagged doubles for the win.

Lee Goldthwaite gave the losers a triple while Terry Bross cracked a double. Lou Cummings went four-for-four on the winning squad.

Sub Shop's victory came off the powerful arm of Jim Ostergard. Dave "Bear" Engle was charged with the loss. Joe Huber was the slugger at the plate for Sub as he smashed a homer and a double going four-for-five. John Larsen added to the win with a five-for-five night.

Larry Bearfield also gave the winners a homer. Chuck McDermott, Bob Barney and Don Baldensperger all popped a double for Sub. Mark Musante and Bill Andrews each gave the losers a homer.

DeVore's win came off the arm of Gary Rain once more as he downed Dick Whiting. Gene Rolis and Barry Dietsch aided the win with homers while Dave Werner and Dave Holmberg banged triples.

Local 469 defeated Towne and Country by an 18-8 score. T&C players made 16 errors and the local was able to capitalize on nine of them. Jack Colvin was the winning pitcher and Daumlsberger the loser.

Hot Stovers To See Bucs

The Upper Allegheny Hot Stove League annual bus trip to Pittsburgh for county hot stove ball players to see the Pirates play the Los Angeles Dodgers is scheduled for Saturday.

Boys from Russell, Clarendon and Sheffield will board a bus at the YMCA in Warren at 1 p.m. Saturday. Game time is 7 p.m. Boys from Youngsville, Sugar Grove and Pittsfield will board a bus in Youngsville at the Post Office at 1:15 p.m. A final stop will be made at Grand Valley for residents of Tidoute and Grand Valley.

Boys in each community should ask the community chairman for information on transportation to the buses and home after they return. Ray Rickerson of Russell, 757-4473, will be in charge of the Warren bus and Chris Sanders, 489-3154, will be in charge of the bus making pickups in Youngsville and Grand Valley.

Each boy should bring a lunch. Pop will be available on the buses when they arrive at Pittsburgh. After the game there will be a stop on the way home for dinner.

Gun Legislation Rally Sunday

There will be a public rally for the purpose of hearing both sides of the current controversy over gun legislation, in the Exhibition Hall at Conneaut Lake Park, at 2:30 p.m. next Sunday.

The meeting is open to the general public with no charge. The purpose is to familiarize persons whose concern over gun controls has been at a point of indecision caused by recent hysteria over the shootings of important public leaders. It is hoped this meeting may help citizens make up their own minds.

The meeting is sponsored by the Northwest Division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and supported by the State Federation. Reports of the sportsmen leaders in every county of Western Pennsylvania indicate they are sending bus loads of representatives. This might well result in a larger attendance than was had at a recent mass meeting for the same purpose in Johnstown where more than 3,500 citizens were registered. Speakers for the affair include nationally recognized authorities on the subject, along with members of the State Legislature and the United States Congress.

Collegians Top Rec All Stars

The Warren Collegians poured it on the Rec All Stars Tuesday night, taking the high school lads by a 111-58 score.

The Collegians jumped into a 12-0 lead at the start, then the All Stars almost caught up, closing the gap to 18-15. After that, it was all the Collegians.

J. J. Johnson was high for the Collegians with 12 field goals for 24 points. Chuck Sample, former Youngsville player, scored 19 and Bob Arnold 16. Dan Krumm was high for the All Stars with 13, while Larry Spence and Rob Lorange each had 10.

The Rec All Stars will play one more game, against the coaches, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Wrestlers Attend Russ Houk Camp

Six Warren Area High School wrestlers are attending Russ Houk's Wrestling Camp at Camp Maple Lake in the eastern part of the state.

The many outstanding wrestling coaches include Bill Smith, 1968 U.S. Olympic Free-style Coach of Iowa State Teachers and Tom Evans, 1968 U.S. Olympic Coach, University of Oklahoma.

Five returning lettermen on the Dragon squad are Lee Bryan, Mike Malnes, Dana Sorensen, Dan Albaugh, Bob Seaquist, John Bonavita is also attending.

D DAY FOR GUNNERS

The gunner who feels quite strongly about the attempt being made at both state and federal levels to require the registration of all guns will have his chance to stand up and be counted on Sunday, August 18, at a meeting being sponsored by the Northwest Division, Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. Officials of this organization have called for a mass protest demonstration to be staged at Convention Hall in Conneaut Lake Park starting at 2:30 p.m. on that date with an estimated 5,000 men and women to attend.

In making the announcement, president Robert Moorhouse said that speakers at the meeting would be recognized authorities on the sportsman's view of the proposed gun control legislation and persons with a wide knowledge of the political maneuvering being carried on by certain lawmakers.

This, it would seem to me, may be the last opportunity for the concerned gun owner to register his personal objections to gun control legislation in a forceful manner (by attending this mass meeting) before Congress and the Pennsylvania State Legislature goes back into session with gun registration as one of their stated goals.

Personally, I don't own a gun anymore. And for a long time I considered the rankings of Senator Tom Dodd and his associates as nothing more than a political gimmick to keep the public's mind off the real problem of fast-multiplying crime rates by offering them a "lollipop" in the form of gun control talk that would never lead to any end.

But in the past months I have seen the efforts of the anti-gun control people take on what I consider to be sinister implications. Their actions have made it quite evident they do not intend to settle for just and reasonable gun controls, but will stand in the way of any control legislation that does not feature gun registration as its chief aim.

This was quite evident recently when the U.S. House of Representatives was considering the bill that would have placed the same mail-order restrictions on rifles and shotguns as presently applies to handguns. There was evidence on the floor that pro-gun forces were willing to let this pass as a compromise measure and accept the controls as being necessary to the "public welfare."

Encouraged, the anti-gun lobby moved immediately to add an amendment that called for gun registration. When this was voted down by a 340-1 margin by house members, another amendment calling for the registration of all gun owners was quickly presented. This too went down to defeat by a considerable margin.

The margin by which these amendments were defeated indicates that the average congressman is buying the idea of either gun or owner registration. But the fact that there is a group of people in the nation who are so determined to know who owns guns and where they are being kept that they will chance the defeat of needed gun control legislation should be of deep concern to the patriotic gun owner who knows that any and all subversive elements in the country would relish the information gun registration would provide.

No, I'm not being a rabble rouser. If we will consider the changes that must come about in this nation before our streets in the metropolitan centers will be safe, the apparent weaknesses of our law enforcement agencies, and what has taken place in other countries of the world under similar conditions, there is ample reason to be concerned. Deeply concerned.

While appearing on a recently televised program, Mayor Lindsay of New York stated that the response to their new gun registration law had brought response from only 10 per cent of the estimated gun owners in the city. And failed to state whether or not any of the gun owners who had come forth to register their weapons could be classified as criminals, drug addicts, mental incompetents, or juveniles—the "elements" the law was designed to control.

Further than this, on a newscast immediately following the Mayor's program, the announcer stated that crime in New York City was up 30.7 per cent over crimes of the previous year.

This is something to be considered in view of the fact that New York has had the most nefarious and restrictive gun control law, the Sullivan Act, on the books for several years now and was one of the first cities to call for gun registration. It supplies ample proof, it seems, that gun control laws are not the answer to the crime problem.

Why, then, does a certain group insist that America must have gun registration? That is a question we must answer, and soon. In the meantime it is extremely important that every law-abiding gun owner should support the protests being voiced against gun registration. And the best way to protest is to attend meetings such as the one being held at Conneaut Lake Park.

Pittsburgh Steeler Fans Hear Coach is Optimistic

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — It's an old time to followers of the Pittsburgh Steelers, but Coach Bill Austin is optimistic.

In 35 National Football League seasons, the Steelers have never won a divisional championship—and in only eight years have they won more games than they lost.

But with each season and each coach—the Steelers have had 16 coaches—the same confident notes are sounded.

"If we all play together as I think we can, we can win," Austin says. "We'll be as good as anybody in our division."

That division is the Century Division in the Eastern Conference, perhaps the weakest of the NFL's four divisions—Cleveland, St. Louis and New Orleans are the other teams. Last year, with New York instead of New Orleans in the alignment, the Steelers did not win a single game against a divisional opponent.

This is the third year in Pittsburgh for Austin, who bases his optimism largely on stability.

Only three players who started at end of last season were starters before Austin's arrival. With a veteran team in 1968, the coach makes it clear he expects that team to jell.

But unless second-year quarterback Kent Nix matured quickly, it could be the same old story of good defense no offense. Nix threw poorly in the 24.7 exhibition loss to St. Louis, and Austin admitted it.

And Dick Shiner, the former Maryland ace acquired from Cleveland, fractured some bones in his lower back and will be out for at least a month.

In addition, the Steelers lost their top split end, J.R. Wilburn, to a fractured hand, and defensive back Bobby John to jammed fingers. Both will be out for a couple of weeks.

Nix took over when Bill Nelsen was injured and played so well that Nelson finally was traded (in the deal for Shiner, Nix completed 136 of 268 passes for 1,587 yards and eight touchdowns in 1967. He threw 19 interceptions.

In the backfield with Nix or Shiner will be Don Shy, a second-year pro who led the Steelers in rushing last season with 341 yards, and veteran Earl Gros.

Austin said Gros has fully recovered from the knee injury that hampered him in 1967.

Other backs are veterans Dick Hoak, Jim Butler and Bill Asbury and two impressive rookies—Byron McCane, no college, and Rocky Bleier from Notre Dame.

The Steelers want heavily for linemen in the draft and their first two selections were offensive tackles—Mike Taylor, a 246-pounder from Southern California, and Ernie Ruple a 256-pounder from Arkansas.

Another rookie of note is Ken Hebert, an outstanding punter and split end from Houston.

For years, Pittsburgh teams have been known for their money demands for exhibitions that's keeping quarterback Joe Namath at the sidelines, the New York Jets said Tuesday.

"Joe probably will test the knee in practice this week to determine how much he'll be able to play in the exhibition with Boston at Richmond, Va., Saturday night," said a spokesman for the American Football League club.

The 25-year-old passing star didn't suit up for the exhibition with the Oilers in Houston Monday night. Babe Parilli, recently acquired from Boston, quarterbacked the 28-14 loss to the Oilers.

Shad Studied In Susquehanna

YORK, Pa. (AP) — The era of hectic shad-fishing on the Susquehanna River may return for fishermen in three states if the findings of a joint federal-state study are put in practice.

The three-year study, entitled "The Suitability of the Susquehanna River for the Restoration of Shad" states that approximately three-quarters of the giant river and its principal tributaries are suitable for the return of the shad, a favorite East coast delicacy.

How shad disappeared in the Susquehanna is a partial subject of the report. Beginning in the middle 1800's, the study says pollution began to set in at the river's mouth in the Chesapeake Bay. Pure living conditions for fish were finally "severed" in the twentieth century when four large hydroelectric dams located along the river.

Ironically, the power companies who own the four dams financed the $300,000 survey, which was carried out by fish and game agencies of New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and the federal government.

The facts of the report were learned by the York Dispatch Monday.

The study was conducted by introducing shad eggs and larvae at specific points along the river. Researchers found that eggs could develop down river in areas thought to be unproductive.

The range cited in the report extends north as far as 35 miles downstream from Binghamton, N. Y., and south to Columbia, in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Some western branches and tributaries, such as the Juniata River as far as Lewistown, were also found to be suited for development of shad.

Frazier Hurt In Bike Mishap

BEAUFORT, S. C. (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier was hospitalized with injuries to his feet Tuesday following a motorcycle accident.

Frazier, a native of Beaufort who took up boxing after moving to Philadelphia, was driving a motorcycle which collided with an automobile on U.S. 21 at the bridge at Lady's Island.

The doctor who examined Frazier said X-rays showed sprained areas in both feet as well as bruises. Frazier is recognized as champion by five states, including New York.

Yanks Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — A 10-man United States boxing team leaves Monday for two bouts with German teams, the Amateur Athletic Union said Sunday. The bouts will be in Hanover, Aug. 16, and in Berlin, Aug. 20.

Marsh Top Thrower In Horseshoe Play

The annual Virgil Williams Memorial Horseshoe Tournament was held at the Falconer Rod and Gun Club Sunday afternoon.

There were 41 entries from Chautauqua and Warren County. Dave Marsh took top honors in Class A with a 7-0 game record on 63.2-per cent ringers.

Class B found Dave Saden and Chet Dennison fighting it out as each held a 6-1 game slate. Saden won in the play off over Dennison 52-13. Sam Lodestro picked up top honors in Class C with a 7-0 game reading on 47.3-per cent ringers.

Al Peterson and Eldee Quintenton tied for top honors in Class D play with 6-1 records. Peterson won out over Quintenton with a 55-28 score.

Clay Sorenson and Ken Williams tied with 8-1 scores in the Class E division forcing a playoff won by Sorenson with a score of 54-22.

Complete results of the tourney follows:

Chicago Bears Go Modern As Papa Bear Retires

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The Chicago Bears are keyed to this season by an intriguing total offense theme designed to keep National Football League opponents guessing.

It fits in with sort of a modernization program under the intense new head coach, Jim Dooley. Dooley, 38, a player and assistant coach with the Bears for 16 years, was handpicked by George Halas as his successor when the 73-year-old Papa Bear retired from the sidelines last May.

Total offense simply means giving more running room to the electrifying Gale Sayers, who in three seasons has scored 46 touchdowns by rushing, pass receiving, kickoff returns and punt returns.

Sayers, running from the half-back slot in previous years, has been ganged upon by opponents who stacked their defenses against him.

The Bears' total offense has Sayers at fullback in the tight T, at fullback in the double wing,

Stephens Defends Amateur Title

PAOLI, Pa. (AP) — Dick Stephens of Pittsburgh's Oakmont Country Club defends his Pennsylvania State Amateur Golf Championship in this week's 55th annual tournament.

Stephens, a former Philadelphiaan, starts play in the three-day, 72-hole championship Wednesday at the Waynesborough Country Club, some 35 miles west of Philadelphia.

The field for the tourney numbers 105 of the state's top amateurs who will play 18 holes each Wednesday and Thursday and 36 holes Friday.

Included in the competition are such amateurs as former hockey star Doug Adams of the Bala Golf Club, Philadelphia; Trip O'Donnell of Brookside Country Club; R. Jay Sigel of Aronimink, Bob Huber of Hershey, and Robert Engman of the host club.

Last year Stephens defeated Greensburg's Tommy Smith and Huntingdon Valley's Phil Hyndman in a playoff. Smith will be in Wednesday's field, but Hyndman has passed up the state championship to play in the Eastern Amateur.

Lions Get Flea

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The New Orleans Saints announced Tuesday they have acquired quarterback Karl Swann of Detroit in a trade which sent split end Walter "Flea" Roberts to the Lions.

The Saints said Detroit also received an undisclosed draft choice in the trade for the 25-year-old, second-year quarterback.

National Guard Plans Golf Meet

The first annual Keystone Amateur Golf Tournament for all active members of the Pennsylvania Army National Guard will be conducted Sunday, September 29, at Champion Lakes Golf Club, Ligonier, Pa.

There will be 18 holes of medal play using the Callaway handicapping scoring system. An awards dinner will conclude the affair at the Golf Club.

All Guardsmen interested in taking part may secure entry blanks by writing Keystone Golf Tournament Committee, Company C, 28th Signal Bn, 28th Div., 1017 Ridge Avenue, Latrobe, Pa. 15650.

Deadline for requesting entries is Sunday, Sept. 15. All entries must be submitted before Sept. 23.

and at man-in-motion flanker in the balance T.

"How can they overload on Sayers when they don't know which direction he's going to run?" asks Dooley, whose head coaching debut was celebrated with a 30-24 exhibition victory over the Dallas Cowboys last week.

The Bears, who finished the 1967 season in the Central Division with 7-6-1 behind the Green Bay Packers (9-4-1), have the carryover problem of too few running backs and offensive linemen.

Along with Sayers are Ronnie Bull, Ralph Kurek, Brian Piccolo and Andy Livingston and possibly Garry Lyle, who still has a hamstring muscle injury.

Livingston is overweight and never has performed to the great potential he has.

With Bob Wetoska's shoulder ailing, the offensive line is shaky.

The Bears are strong on pass receivers, linebackers and defensive backs.

Rookie Cecil Turner, NCAA college division 100 meter champion from California Poly, may become another superstar find. He scored on an 88-yard opening kickoff return and a 72-yard pass from quarterback Jack Concannon against Dallas.

Turner should give the opposition fits back there with Sayers.

ers on kickoffs," says Dooley. Turner and another outstanding rookie, Bob Wallace from Texas El Paso, supplement veterans Dick Gordon, Bob Jones and Jimmy Jones as wide receivers.

Seasoned Austin Denny is at tight end No. 1 draft choice, Mike Hull of Southern California, also is eyed for that spot, but may wind up at fullback, his old Trojan position.

There is a strong, agile defensive corps beyond the line, including secondary backs Richie Pettibon, Rosey Taylor, Curtis Gentry and Bennie McCrae, and linebackers Doug Buffone, Dick Butkus, Mike Reilly and Jim Purnell.

The defensive line is manned by Dick Evey, Ed O'Bradovich, Lloyd Phillips and 285-pound Frank Cornish.

In addition to Wetoska, offensive linemen facing the challenge are Mike Pyle, George Seals, Jim Cadille, Bob Pickens, Randy Jackson and rookie Wayne Mass of Clemson.

Concannon, who performed well last season despite a shoulder and arm ailment, carries the No. 1 quarterback tag and could become one of the NFL's best. He has proved himself a long, as well as short, passer and an exceptional running threat. Backing him are Larry Rakestraw and Rudy Bukich.

GOLFING WITH Arnold Palmer
Gol's first Million Dollar P.G.A. Winner

TWO PRINCIPLES FOR GOOD GRIPPING

I hate to get specific about the grip because no two golfers have hands and fingers of the same size, shape and strength. However, I would like to point out two general principles that I feel are important for consistent golf. Illustration #1 shows these two principles, while illustration #2 points out how the grip looks when these fundamentals are ignored.

First, the hands should be as close together as possible on the clubshaft. Close unification of the hands helps keep the clubface looking at the target for a longer time in the hitting area.

Second, the hands should be more or less parallel on the club. Ideally for most golfers, the palm of the right hand should face the target, and the back of the left hand should face just slightly right of target. This hand positioning will promote a clubface position at impact that looks in the direction you intend the ball should fly.

Accident Causes Minor Injuries

BRADFORD — A two-car accident at 7:20 p. m. Saturday resulted in minor injury to a Warren area man and another operator.

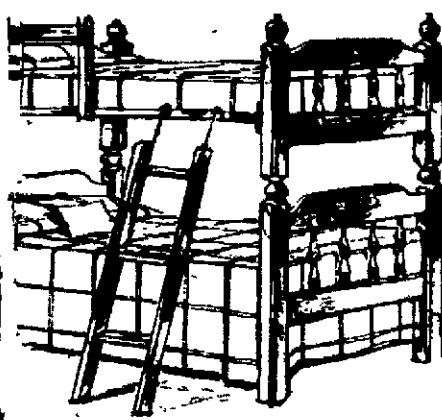

State police said a car driven by Howard Brundage, 70, of East State road, Olean, N. Y., was traveling west on Route 59, a quarter mile west of Bradford Airport road, and attempted to turn into a private driveway.

Brundage told police that sun blinded him and he failed to see an approaching vehicle operated by Clifford L. Jenkins, 31, of 621 Warren-Kinzua rd., Warren.

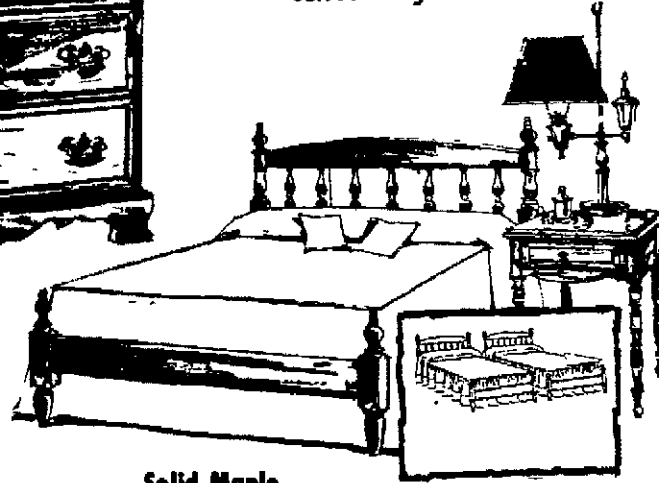

According to police, Jenkins was unable to stop and struck the Brundage car. Both operators received minor bruises and cuts.

Reflections on Upcoming Democratic National Convention in Chicago

Mr. Chairman, Alabama casts its votes for Gov. George Wallace.

That was a loaded question and I'll reserve comment until the Democratic National Convention gets under way.

I'm still uncommitted. I might even give it a try myself.

I see no reason so far to be kicking up my heels.

With the approach of the Democratic National Convention, a TM&O photographer conducted his own pictorial poll when he discussed the political situation with this living symbol of the Democratic party... all in fun, of course.

Court Reinstates Suit For Transportation Costs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The State Supreme Court, in reversing a lower court decision Tuesday, reinstated a suit for nearly $22,000 in pupil transportation costs brought by a Delaware County school district.

The Rose Tree Media school district had filed suit against the State Department of Public Instruction. The district claimed it had not been reimbursed for transportation costs for the school years 1958-59 through 1964-65.

A Common Pleas Court in 1967 dismissed the suit, ruling school district officials were trying to control discretion of state officials. The district appealed to the Supreme Court.

The high court opinion reversed the earlier decision, stating, "In our view, the Public School Code of 1949 provides a mandatory statutory directive for the Department of Public Instruction to follow."

"It is clear," Justice Robert R. Cohen said, "that once the department has approved the amount of reimbursable transportation costs, there is no discretion left to the department in arriving at the actual amount which must be paid to the school district."

In ruling the school district's suit was proper, Justice Cohen said, "In the event that the department approves the expenses incurred, its failure to pay the amount required... is a proper subject for an action in mandamus."

In a concurring opinion, Justice Samuel J. Roberts said the lower court's decision should be based on whether the district's figures were the ones approved by the department.

Board of Health

Warren borough remained free of quarantine and communicable diseases in July. The health officer made a total of 126 visits, investigated 15 complaints and abated 11 nuisances. Four stores were inspected along with six eating and drinking places and six dairies. One dog bite incident was investigated last month.

Merger of Child Welfare With Public Assistance Sought

PITTSBURGH (AP) — County government leaders were sharply divided Tuesday over a proposal to shift county control of the child welfare program to the State Department of Public Welfare.

Elias S. Cohen, commissioner of the department's family service office, said merger of the program with public assistance would reduce the financial burden of counties and help meet a mounting need for child welfare services.

Cohen spoke at the 82nd convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners. Nearly 500 county commissioners, solicitors and chief clerks from across the state are attending the three-day parley.

The reaction to Cohen's proposal, though mixed, underscored a convention tug of war over state and local control, which emerged during Monday's discussions of the proposed state Mental Health and Retardation Program.

Some commissioners' labeled as a "come-on" Cohen's statement that the merger would put a 25 per cent ceiling on county child welfare costs. Under the current cost system, which calls for nearly even sharing, Cohen said counties are spending $25 million per year to the state's 13 million.

Asked if the ceiling was guaranteed, Cohen said there is no assurance, adding: "What we can do is work together to insert safeguards in proposed legislation...and it is recognized that county commissioners have some muscle in the legislature."

Henry F. Frey, Lycoming county commissioner, argued that if the state wants administrative control, "It should foot the whole bill. What you're trying to do," he said, "is turn the counties into tax collection agencies for the state."

Other commissioners argued that the counties could better manage the program financially, and that a single welfare system would not account for differences in urban, suburban and rural problems.

Advocates of a merger among the commissioners said since welfare program employees come under Civil Service, the state already exercises virtual control of the county programs.

They also repeated Cohen's argument that the services will have to be extended to children, including those on public assistance rolls, under the amendments to the 1967 Social Security Act, Cohen had said this would substantially increase case work.

The association's welfare committee has recommended the merger. Delegates are expected to vote on the question Wednesday.

Schweiker Will Run On Record

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Rep. Richard Schweiker, giving the Nixon-Agnew ticket a 50-50 chance of carrying Pennsylvania said Tuesday he plans to run on his own record.

Schweiker, who wanted New York Mayor John Lindsay for the second spot, said he wasn't disgruntled at the choice of Maryland Gov. Spiro Agnew.

But he said he would run an independent campaign. Schweiker, campaigning against Democratic Sen. Joseph Clark, said Agnew is more moderate than he is being advertised.

The reaction of many Republicans at the convention, Schweiker said, "was more surprise than dismay."

"After all he was relatively unknown and had not been mentioned in the list of possible contenders," Schweiker said. The four-term Republican congressman said he was not divorcing himself from the national ticket. But he said he wanted to concentrate on picking up "the anti-Clark vote."

Schweiker said he was glad that Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno decided against running for the Senate.

"I have a great deal of respect for Justice Musmanno but quite frankly he would have taken some of the anti-Clark vote from me," Schweiker said in an interview.

Negro Social Worker Complains Blacks Given Token Representation

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Negro social worker complained Tuesday that the black community was being given only token representation on county Mental Health and Mental Retardation Boards.

Robert L. Woodson, executive director of the Media Fellowship House, particularly cited Southeastern Pennsylvania in laying his complaint before the Governor's Advisory Committee on Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Woodson said that to his knowledge, the Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware county boards were made up entirely of middle-class and upper-middle class whites, while the Chester and Philadelphia boards had only one Negro each among their 13 members.

Woodson argued that if the objective of the state's Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act of 1966 was to provide services for the economically deprived, such under-representation among the Negro community made the task impossible.

"Since there are proportionately five poor black people to every poor white, it (the program) must attempt to reach out and relate to the black community," Woodson testified.

He took the position that without adequate minority representation on the local boards, the problems of the poor would never be fully comprehended.

The establishment of the county boards was mandated by the 1966 Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act which is designed to shift the emphasis for the care of the mentally ill from the state to the county level.

The governor's committee held a public hearing to air the views of regional spokesmen on proposed regulations drafted by the Department of Public Welfare.

Two organizations were particularly critical of a regulation which would hold patients with assets of more than $4,000 liable for full costs of services, regardless of their income.

Mrs. Jack Robbins of Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., called the standard "highly discriminatory against many persons with low incomes."

Dr. Rex A. Pittenger of the Allegheny County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Program labeled it "inappropriately stringent" and urged its deletion.

Both spokesmen recommended that eligibility and liability on the basis of earned income and income from assets be the ultimate determining factors.

Dr. George E. Farrar Jr., president-elect of the Pennsylvania Medical Society warned that one section of the regulations would greatly reduce the number of physicians who would participate in the program.

The section would reimburse physicians for services according to fee schedules set down in accredited health insurance plans.

Farrar maintained that in most cases, the fees are approximately 50 per cent less than "the prevailing fees for such services."

$65,000 Fire Set by Boys Who Swiped Flares

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Police said today that a $65,000 lumber yard fire was set by two young boys who swiped some flares, lit them and then couldn't put them out.

Police said the boys, aged 9 and 12, also were responsible for six recent burglaries in the area around the lumber yard.

The boys, whose names were kept secret, are being held by police until juvenile court decides what to do. Officers gave this sequence of what happened on Sunday:

The boys broke into a bar across the street from the lumber yard and stole $15, a bunch of matches and two flares. They walked across the railroad tracks to the lumber yard shed and lit the flares.

When they couldn't put them out, they began looking for somewhere to get rid of them. One boy decided to drop his down what he thought was a chute. It was merely a hole in the floor of the building. The flare fell on some shavings and the fire started.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't want my baby and I need to know what to do about it. Before you start to look up homes for unwed mothers let me tell you I am married and have a good husband.

When Bill and I were going together we agreed not to bring any children into this crazy, violent world. We felt it would be unfair. I was six weeks pregnant when we married but didn't know it.

When I told Bill I was pregnant he was surprisingly happy. I told him I was miserable and didn't want the baby. He assured me I would change my mind and for a few days I believed him. Now I know better. I hate the thought of having a baby and I fear I will do something terrible to him.

My feelings are unnatural and I need professional help but we live 70 miles from a mental health clinic and the roads are bad. Also, I don't think a doctor could change my mind. What should I do? -- A READER AND FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you had a broken leg you'd make that 70-mile trip, wouldn't you? Well, this is equally urgent. Get going. There is no time to waste.

DEAR ANN: I was amused by the letter from the woman who was tired of well-meaning friends and relatives who insisted on "helping" her in the kitchen in spite of her protests. Framed and hanging in my kitchen is a poem that has helped me a lot. Here it is:

Please stay away from my kitchen,
From my dishwashing, cooking and such.
You were kind to have offered to help me
And I do want to thank you so much.
I hope you won't think me ungracious
When I ask that you leave me alone,
For my kitchen is not very spacious
And my system is strictly my own.
So please stay out of my kitchen
It may well prevent a few wars,
And when I am invited to YOUR house,
I promise to stay out of yours. -- MRS. DOUBLE BOILER

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My parents were cold and unaffectionate. I married at 16 -- simply because a man paid me the compliment of asking. The magic didn't last very long -- less than a year, to be exact. I needed more love than he could give me and I went looking for it. When he learned of my many affairs he divorced me.

My second marriage is now seven years old. I am happier now than I ever dreamed I could be. My husband is an angel. He is all I need or want. Believe me, Ann, I have learned my lesson. But my past is catching up with me. At the Club last night I ran into two old flames. I'm sure to run into others -- and one of them might say something to my husband, or look at me in a way that will reveal all.

Should I protect myself by telling my husband everything? Please help me. I am -- A SHOOK COOKIE

DEAR SHOOK: What happened before you married your husband is history. The only thing he NEEDS to know is that you were married before -- and I assume he knows that. Keep quiet.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 13 and in trouble with my mother. After school a guy I know invited me to work in his darkroom. He is an amateur photographer and so am I.

At about five o'clock my buddy's dad asked us if he wanted to ride along to deliver something in his pickup truck. The ride ended up being a two-hour trip. When I got home my mother was like crazy with worry. I had meant to call her but it slipped my mind.

I tried to tell Mom I didn't mean to make her worry and if I had called her she would have said, "O.K. go." Why are mothers so unreasonable? Please answer in the paper for all kids with unreasonable mothers. -- VICTIM

DEAR VIC: The problem isn't unreasonable mothers but inconsiderate kids. It would have taken you all of two minutes to make a phone call and avoid all the trouble. Next time use your noodle, son.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wilder Field Scene Of Annual Rudolph Family Gathering

One hundred and five relatives gathered at Wilder Field, all members of the Rudolph family, on a recent Sunday. The two oldest were Mrs. Anna Weller Storer and William Rudolph; the youngest was Jeffrey Vargson, 3 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Vargson.

After a dinner served at 1 o'clock, Frank Rudolph, president, presided at a meeting in which the same officers were asked to serve for another year. Elected for the table committee were, Mrs. Peggy Albaugh, Mrs. Effie Chappel, Miss Linda Hills, Mrs. Edith Rudolph, Mrs. Hannah Rudolph and Mrs. Jacky Rudolph; for entertainment, Mrs. Alice Hills, Miss Becky Spencer, Franklin Hills and Corky Slack.

Those present enjoyed viewing old pictures members of the family brought that had been taken in Newtown Mills and the people who lived there when the town was booming. Newtown Mills has been a ghost town for many years.

Special guests at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jones.

WOTM... 8 p.m. in Moose Lodge.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Seven of ♠
East's defensive strategy was not soundly conceived and, as a result, South landed a four heart contract that could have been routinely defeated.

West led the seven of spades and East played the ace. East realized that, even if he were to cash two diamond tricks, there was little hope of defeating the contract unless West had a singleton spade and could ruff the return.

East shifted to the king of diamonds at trick two to make it abundantly clear where his side entry was. He switched back to a spade and South played low from his hand as West ruffed. West attempted to put East back in with a diamond; however, declarer trumped away the ace, drew the remaining hearts, and routinely won the rest of the tricks.

East's diamond shift at trick two was a costly gesture for the defense. Had he given West an immediate ruff, he would have been in position to regain the lead with the king of diamonds to administer the lethal thrust with a third round of spades.

Altho East could not diagnose that his partner held six diamonds while declarer had only a singleton, there was another means available to show his reentry to West, namely the suit preference signal.

In giving partner a ruff, the return of an unnecessarily high card requests the return of the higher ranking of the side suits. The return of the lowest card asks for the lower suit. In the present case, had East led back the queen of spades at trick two, it would have indicated that his reentry was in diamonds, for, if he wanted a club return, he would have played a lower spade.

Chairmen Outline Season Plans

F. Everett Borg, president Warren Rotary Club, presented committee chairmen at the regular Monday noon meeting at the Blue Manor in a program setting forth the goals set for the 1968-69 club year.

Bob Kusse outlined the plans for 1968-69 for the Club Service committee.

William Wolfersberger set forth the plans for the Community Service committee. Al Lauffenberger stressed the Four Way Test as an instrument of service to the community at large, as a part of the vocational service committees goals. John Kofod spoke for the committee on professional relations.

Frank Christy spoke on the International Service program; Thomas Barratt, on World Community Service program, citing a school built by Peace Corps volunteers in Nana Island in the Pacific, a U.S. protectorate that had no school building for the children.

President Borg reminded Rotarians that the Warren Rotary Club will be honored by the official visit of E. E. "Gene" Monmoyer, of Dubois, Pa., district governor on Monday, August 26.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — Do not permit last-minute rushes, necessary or self-inflicted, to spoil what could be a creditable day. Some seeming adversities are out-and-out blessings; others can be made so.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Consider your responsibilities, and handle them with the verve and ambition day inspires. Venus encourages artistry, romance.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — Do not waste precious moments regretting "what might have been," getting into hassles that solve nothing. It's so easy to do these things when the guard is down — as it may be now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Look to revitalized ambition and straight-shooting tactics to put over issues and carry you through safely. A good day under Moon's generous influence.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Solar influences, highly auspicious, boost your special brand of fervor and enthusiasm, help you to keep the ball rolling, the doors to cooperation open, the spirit strong.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Better-than-average prospects, but you will have to grasp the good things firmly, and quickly put aside the undesirable. If careful in your approach, you will make fine strides.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Wade through the difficult periods, relax with the pressureless ones. Whichever, you will have need of your innate characteristics: Imagination, ability to see the humorous side, steadiness.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — There is strength in numbers but be careful how you become involved — or don't. Yes, be a person of action, but with inner strength, sound purpose, judicious foresight.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — Jupiter highly auspicious. Plan, negotiate, ask for and of grant favors, call meetings. All should go well.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — A notably auspicious planetary day. Work carefully planned, projects initiated, painstaking efforts should all yield fine results.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Planets indicate some complications not easily unraveled. Yet, by diligent process, you will be able to rack up better results than you expect.

PICES (February 20 to March 20) — Some barren spots in this day. You will need a bit of "oomph" to handle them. Stress your inborn farsightedness and imagination.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with magnetism, vitality, leadership and deep affection. You always hope for serenity and deep love, and if you keep your sunny side out you will have them. Your humor exhilarates. In writing and public speaking it can be brilliant. You are often conservative, surely sympathetic, influenced through your heart. Be consistent in work, not letting things go "till later", though you are capable in these places. You are capable along artistic lines, especially as craftsmen, critics, entertainers. Birthdate of: John Galsworthy and Sir Walter Besant, authors.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 by The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE FATTY WORM TURNS

Science, fashion, and insurance companies discourage obesity as being unhealthy and unfashionable. Corpulence has not always been regarded as being a fault, and there is a possibility that the worm will turn. In the future, portliness may be more desirable. The stereotype beauty may have a fuller face, wider girth, and thicker legs.

There is a growing revolution against being skinny; the generously endowed are tired of feeling guilty about their weight. This was brought about by research that weight gains result from poor eating habits and lack of willpower. Being ridden by guilt is bad enough. As a result, overeating became a symptom of frustration, insecurity, anxiety, dependence, inadequacy, or immaturity. Eating too much was even blamed on a reaction to an unsatisfactory life situation.

The rebellion is led by Dr. Thaddeus Kostrubala, Northwestern university medical school psychiatrist. He extols the virtue and value of being fat and mentions many portly members of our society who contributed considerably to our welfare and happiness. The list is impressive and includes Buddha, Winston Churchill, Al Hirt, Mayor Daley, and Santa Claus. Modesty prevented him from including himself.

For fatties riddled with guilt he suggests: "Take heart, continue to grow in spirit and stature, and emphasize the quality of life. . . . Do not quail at the wizened restrictive cult of the skinny."

Less than a century ago, the chubby figure was a symbol of success. These men and women were wealthy enough to acquire an abundance of the finer things of life. According to Winifred M. Ayers, those having access to food — "the host in the local inn, the butcher, and the baker" — were the lucky ones. Cartoonists still portray capitalists as stylishly stout.

TOMORROW: Age of Transplants.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CHEWING TOBACCO

A reader writes: Does chewing tobacco affect the heart in the same way as cigaret smoking does?

REPLY
Yes, but to a lesser extent. Cigaret smoking affects the heart because of the absorption of nicotine and carbon monoxide. Blood pressure and pulse rate increase and the circulation to toes and fingers decreases. These findings are inconsistent, however. The response is on an individual basis.

CAUSES OF EYE ULCER

A reader writes: Could a person develop an ulcer of the eyeball from a speck of dirt that entered a week previously?

REPLY
A speck of dirt is an unlikely cause unless it has become embedded in the surface or the eyeball has been damaged during removal of the foreign body. Corneal ulcers may follow injury, infection, and other irritations.

MENOPAUSE AND VISION

A reader writes: Can the menopause have an adverse effect upon the eyes?

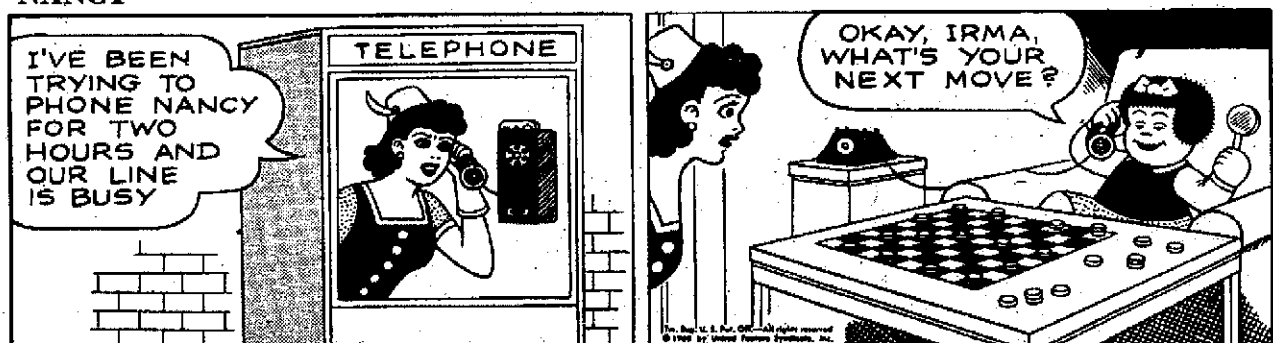

REPLY
No, but the menopause occurs at an age when changes in visual acuity are likely to take place. The two conditions are unrelated.

BOB MOAK AND EVIE McELROY 'Glass Menagerie' Opens Thursday at Chautauqua

Chautauqua, New York—"The Glass Menagerie," Tennessee Williams' first full-length play and regarded by many as his best, opens Thursday, August 15 in Norton Memorial Hall here. Presented by the Chautauqua Repertory Theater, it will be repeated on Saturday, August 17. The play will begin at 8:30 p. m.

In "Glass Menagerie" the eminent American playwright is lyrical and delicate rather than harsh. With humor and pathos, he creates human beings seeking escape from the emptiness of their daily existence. A former Southern belle, now a middle-aged mother, played by Evie McElroy, seeks refuge in her romanticized past and in her dreams of the future.

Her crippled daughter, portrayed by Catherine Heiser, retreats from the wounds of reality into the shadowy glass figures of her imagination. A son tries to blot out the drabness of his life by immersing himself in the vicarious adventures of the movies, and when this fails, he runs away to the more real adventures of the outside world. But he remains forever haunted by the past.

A "gentleman caller," Jonathan Bolt, wants to get away from mediocrity by escaping the system that threatens to entrap him. All four are sad echoes of human experience and the playwright has drawn them with honesty and sympathy.

Elvie McElroy, whose earthy performance as Serafina in Tennessee Williams' "Rose Tattoo" here earlier this summer delighted her audience, has an opportunity to display her versatility in this role as the genteel, faded Southern Belle.

Bob Moak, who will be remembered for his amusing characterization as "Charley's Aunt" has a more introspective role as the son in "Glass Menagerie."

Jonathan Bolt, the "gentleman caller," was seen earlier this season as the distraught father-to-be in "Generation." He played his "Menagerie" role with the Cleveland Playhouse this winter and has several Broadway and television appearances to his credit.

Paul Rodgers did the setting for "Glass Menagerie" and Carole Margolis fashioned the costumes. Tickets for the play may be obtained by phoning the Box Office at Chautauqua (357-3005) or at the Jamestown Chamber of Commerce or the Charles Tranter Public Relations Office in Warren, Penna.

"THE DETECTIVE"

20th Century-Fox's "The Detective," which opens Wednesday at the Library Theater brings Frank Sinatra to the screen in one of his most demanding dramatic roles to date. Sinatra stars as Joe Leland, the detective who found his life in the police department to be more important than his life as a man. Lee Remick co-stars as his wife, Karen.
